WASHINGTON, April 20.—Pres-

CELEBRATING Easter in Moscow, many were killed, 1,500 were arrested. Some started with vodka, and ended drinking kerosene, and fighting savagely at Easter parties. Others, drunk and helpless in the streets,
fell under automobiles.

Russia's Easter celebration begins with sweet religious fervor, but does not end that way.

The czar abolished vodka, then Russia, sober and thinking clearly, abolished him. Now vodka comes back. Bolshevism realizes that to rule, it is wise to discourage thinking in the crowd!

THE South is energetic and growing. Governor Smith of New York, chose well, selecting North Carolina for his golf holiday. He is studying one of the most amazing progressive states of the Union.

These five men, northbound from Miami, got off the train at Asheville, N. C. the other day to pay their respects to the governor: Judge Ol-vaney, Surrogate James F. Foley, Bernard F. Gimbel, George Le Boutil-lier, president of the Long Island railroad, and Arthur Foran, all of New York.

They all agree that North Carolina supplies the South and American progress generally.

"The whole state," said B. F. Gim-bel, "seems as closely built up as the area between New York and Philadelphia."

The Cannon Towel Mill, biggest on earth, employs 5,000 men and women.
The well-known B. V. D. gentlemen, and the great Chicago firm of Marshall Field, have enormous manufacturing plants in North Carolina. Other manufacturing institutions spring up daily.

The state has water power practically unlimited, at low cost, an energetic working population and extremely good living conditions.

Don't overlook North Carolina in your plans.

PRESIDENT ALFRED P. SLOAN, Jr., of General Motors, is not exactly discouraged about the automobile situation. His company in March, 1928, sold 35,911 more cars than in March, 1927, a gain of 22.2 per cent, and March broke all records for all time, total sales, 197,821 cars.

Mr. Sloan expects General Motors to break this record in April, usually a bigger month than March. There is nothing the matter with this country or its prosperity, nothing to frighten us except our own foolishness.

ASKS U. S. QUIZ OF POKER PARTY

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Demand for congressional investigation of the famous poker party here in which Harry F. Sinclair, Captain J. K. Robison and navy and interior department officials participated, was made before the house naval affairs committee today by Representative McClintic (D.) of Oklahoma. The party followed Sinclair's leasing of Teapot Dome.

Representative Britten (R.) of Illinois, frowned on the suggestion, saying "If you investigate this you might as well investigate the love affairs of men in public life."
He said if any of the navy officials involved desired to testify, the committee would hear them, but would not force them to appear.

CITY ELECTORS WILL REGISTER ON SATURDAY

Monday Also Enrollment Day for Tuesday's Primaries.

PACK BALLOTS

Supplies Will be Distributed Here Monday Night.

East Liverpool electors who are not registered will be given their last opportunity to qualify for Tuesday's presidential preference primaries tomorrow and Monday when registrars will be on duty in the 22 precincts of the city.

Registration hours will be from 9
a. m. to 3 p. m. and from 5 to 10 p.
m. The registrars will also issue and accept transfers from voters who have moved since last fall.

Registrars will call at the election board headquarters at 7:30 o'clock tonight for supplies.

Members of the Columbiana County election board were in Lisbon this afternoon, packing ballots and other election supplies for the north county polling places. These supplies will be distributed at the court house tomorrow.

Supplies for East Liverpool and Salineville and Liverpool, St. Clair and Washington townships will be issued at the election board headquarters in the Betz building, Market street, Monday evening. Supplies for Wellsville and Yellow Creek township will go out from the C. N. Brannan drug store, Main street, Wellsville.

Each voter entering the polls next Tuesday will be given two ballots, the preference ticket on which he will mark choice for president and vice-president and another for delegates and alternates to the national and state conventions.

LODGE PRESENTS FLAG TO SCHOOL

Members of Purity council, No. 3, Junior Order United American Mechanics, presented the Maplewood school with an American flag this afternoon.

The exercises, in which pupils and teachers participated, were held on the school lawn at 3 o'clock, the flag being raised to the top of the pole in front of the building.

The presentation speech was made by William Lisk, past councillor of the order. The flag was accepted by J.
T. Croxall, member of the school board. Pupils gave the flag salute and sang patriotic numbers.

The order recently presented a flag to the Glenmoor school.

STAMP EXHIBIT HERE TONIGHT

Stamps collected from almost every country in the world will be exhibited by the "Philatelic Society of East Liverpool in the Carnegie Library between the hours of 4 and 8 o'clock tonight.

There are in existence approximately 70,000 different kinds of stamps and a greater part of these will be seen in the exhibit. No admission fee will be charged and the public is invited.

The local society was organized in 1922 by Brady Buchanan. Meetings are held weekly in the Y. M. C. A. or the home of members.

NEGRO COMMUNITY IS WIPE OUT

Dozen Buildings in Barnegat are Damaged and Farm Houses Destroyed
as Blaze is Fought.

NEW YORK, April 20.—Forest fires, spread over a wide area by a 60-mile-an-hour gale which swept the Atlantic seaboard yesterday afternoon, were raging unchecked early today through southern New Jersey and the pine belt of Long Island. Two men lost their lives in New Jersey.

More than 30,000 acres of pine barrens were burned by a fire which is believed to have destroyed Lincoln Heights, a Negro community in New Jersey, and gutted a dozen buildings in Barnegat. Checked in Barnegat, the fire destroyed two farm houses in Waretown. Causing the death of Frank Eayres, 50-year-old farmer.

Two Barnegat firemen were burned seriously and Vincent Clayton, a coast guardman, died from injuries sustained while fighting the fire.

Every available fireman from Barnegat to Red Bank, 65 miles away, coast guards and volunteers were fighting the flames.

Mountain Pillars of Fire.

Cooker mountain, near Midvale, N. J., is a veritable pillar of fire.
Ten thousand firemen and volunteers were battling a fire which devastated 30 square miles of wooded territory between Bayshore and Central Islip, Long Island. With the danger increased by a strong northwest wind today, it was feared that the entire forest in this section would be burned out unless rain falls.

The lurid crimson of the burning forest attracted thousands of spectators. Smaller fires were burning a few miles north of New York City.
All along the coast window panes were blown out, buildings rocked and the streets filled with debris. Scores were injured by flying planks, glass and signs.

Displacement Visit Pittsburgh.
Eight members of the East Liverpool Displacement's club have returned from Pittsburgh where they inspected the show windows of the city's large department stores. A theatre party was held in the evening.

German Fliers, Awaiting Irish Pilot, Work On Bremen, Preparing for Hop to New York

By LESLIE ROBERTS.
(Copyright, 1928, by International News Service.)

GREENELY ISLAND, April 20.—
(By airplane to Seven Islands, Quebec, and Murray Bay and by land vito New York)—The Arctic stillness of this ice-bound island was broken today by the clang of hammer blows and the rattle of tools where a little group of workers, including Baron von Huenefeld and Captain Herman Koehl, were dismantling the propeller and the broken landing gear of the trans-Atlantic plane Bremen.

It is hoped that Major James E.
Fitzmaurice, the third member of the famous trio, will arrive by tomorrow morning with replacements. Baron von Huenefeld wants to reach New York on Tuesday.

Plan to Pick up Fitzmaurice at Murray Bay.

DETROIT, April 20.—Headed for Greenely Island, a big trim-motor Ford plane took off at 7:07 a. m. today to carry repair parts to the disabled trans-Atlantic plane Bremen. The plane was carrying fuel sufficient for a 2,000 mile flight.

May Pick Up Herta Junkers.

The plane was equipped for the flight here yesterday by Floyd Bennett and Bert Balchen, chief pilots of Commander Richard E. Byrd's proposed South Pole expedition, who were at the controls when the machine took the air.

They were accompanied by Carl Wenzel, a Ford mechanic, Tom Mulroy, an engineer, and Charles J. V.
Murray, of New York, representing the mayor's welcoming committee.

The first stop will be made at Murray Bay, Que., where the plane of Herta Junkers, daughter of the Bremen builder, was forced down when she started with repair parts to Greenely Island. At Murray Bay skis will be placed on the Ford Relief plane and the replacement parts will be transferred from Herta Junkers plane to the Ford ship.

At Murray Bay the aviators plan to pick up Major James Fitzmaurice, one of the trans-Atlantic fliers and a Junkers mechanic. It is probable that Miss Herta Junkers will go along to Greenely Island.

Delay Hop-off for 10 Days.

GREENELY ISLAND, VIA MUR-RAY BAY, Que., April 20.—The Bremen cannot resume its flight to New York for at least ten days, Captain Hermann Koehl declared today. The German pilot, who has been working with Baron von Huenefeld to get the trans-Atlantic plane in flying condition, said it would be at least a week from the time the necessary repair parts arrive before the Bremen would be ready to hop off for Mitchell Field.

Await Arrival of Parts.

QUEBEC, Que., April 20.—That Captain Hermann Koehl, Ehrenfried
von Huenefeld and Major James E.
Fitzmaurice, the first fliers to span the North Atlantic in a westward flight, will reach New York in the early part of next week, seemed assured today.

Everything is in readiness for rushing repairs and fuel to Greenely Island where the Junkers monoplane Bremen is stranded, slightly damaged and with practically no fuel in its tanks.

If weather conditions permit, a trimotored Ford monoplane, piloted by Bert Balchen and Floyd Bennett, crack pilots of Commander Richard E. Byrd's Antarctic expedition, was to take off for Murray bay from Detroit today.

The Ford ship, a huge affair of the same type Byrd will use on his Polar expedition, will pick up Major Fitz-maurice, a Junkers mechanic, the repair parts and fuel at Murray bay and then make another flight to Greenely Island.

Bremen May Stop on Hop.

According to officials of the Canadian Trans-Continental Airways company, the plan to take Major Fitz-maurice and the repair parts to Greenely Island in the plane of

Newell Blaze Causes Damage Estimated at $3,000.

Home of Mrs. J. B. Cryzter and garage owned by David Cronin, Second and Harrison street, Newell, were completely destroyed by fire of undetermined origin shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The loss is estimated at $3,000.

The blaze, which started in the Cryzter residence, a one-story frame structure, rapidly spread to the garage and for a time threatened the Cronin home and other dwellings in the vicinity.

Newell volunteer fire department,
under the direction of Chief A. M.
Fisher, was assisted in fighting the flames by members of the Chester and East Liverpool departments.

ENDS CONTEMPT CASE TESTIMONY

COLUMBUS, O., April 20.—All of the testimony having been submitted, the Ohio supreme court today took under advisement the cases of the 12 persons accused in the Fall-Sinclair case.

The court is expected to fix a date when the accused again appear to hear sentence pronounced, or for notification of such action as the court may decide to take.

The public hearing ended today when cross examination of Attorney John B. Canfield, Cleveland, was completed and Attorney General Edward C. Turner, on behalf of the Prosecution, submitted the joint case against Carlton Miller and Ralph W.
Miller, sons of Seba Miller, state supreme court clerk.

MAN DIES AFTER TORONTO FIGHT

STEUBENVILLE, O., April 20.—
Adam Martin, 55, is dead, and George Koskey, 38, is held in the county jail here, as the result of a rough and turbulent fight in an alleged speakeasy conducted by Martin, at Toronto, near here. The men are said to have been drinking in the basement of Martin's place when a fight started. Koskey says that Martin fell to the floor, striking his head upon the concrete.
Martin was brought to a hospital here where he died about midnight.

ROBBERS RANS J. C. MCGREW HOME

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C.
McGrew, Holiday street, East Liverpool, was entered last night, a drifter and other women's wearing apparatus were stolen.

The robbery occurred between 10 and 11 o'clock, while members of the family were absent. Entrance was effected by using a skeleton key, and other jewelry, left on a dressing table, was not taken.

Patrolman George Kidder investigated the robbery.

INDICT SHERIFF OF PHILADELPHIA

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Thomas
W. Cunningham, sheriff of Philadelphia, was indicted on six counts by the grand jury today for his refusal to reveal to the senate campaign and committee the source of his $50,000 contribution to the Vane senate campaign in Pennsylvania.

packed rags and paper is thought to have been responsible.

OIL MAN MAY LEARN FATE IN TEAPOT DOME QUIZ SATURDAY

Prosecution Takes Parting Fling on Fall Deposition.

BRIBERY ALLEGED

Millionaire Scored by Government in Closing Arguments.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—A "slimy trial that ran through a mass of corruption, fraud and deceit, led up to the leasing of the Teapot Dome oil reserve," Prosecutor Owen J. Roberts today told the jury that is sitting in the conspiracy trial of Harry
F. Sinclair, millionaire oil man.

Turns Guns on Defense.

Roberts poured shaft after shaft of ridicule into the defense claim that Sinclair had not bribed former Secretary of Interior Albert B. Fall to secure the lease, and that the lease was negotiated in an open and aboveboard manner. He waxed indignant over the defense story that the $235,- 000 in Liberty bonds Sinclair sent Fall actually were for the purchase of a third interest in the Fall ranch.

The jury will be deliberating on Sinclair's fate by tomorrow.

The prosecution took one parting fling at Sinclair today when, over defense objection, it forced into the record the fact that a lengthy deposition had been taken from Fall but never placed in evidence.

Justice Jennings today considered the matter over night and rendered his ruling when court opened this morning.

Harassed as Defense Pillar.

The Fall deposition at one time had been heralded as one of the pillars of the defense, containing as it does the Fall-Sinclair affidavit that $235,000 had no connection with the case but represented the purchase price of a third interest in Fall's ranch.

The deposition also contained, however, in that section devoted to cross examination, the admission of Fall that he had deliberately lied to a senate committee about the source of $100,000 which came into his possession about the time he leased the Elk Hills oil reserve to E. L. Doheny. Fall got the money from Doheny, but he told the committee E. B. McLean, Washington publisher, loaned it to him.

Prosecutor Owen J. Roberts wanted the jury to know that the defense was afraid to use the deposition because of something damaging in it.

Roberts loses Point.

Fall's deposition set forth the plea that he was "influenced by others to write the fatal letter to the senate committee in which he told the falsehood as to where he received the money. He told of being visited by Senators Smoot (R.) of Utah, Len-roe (R.) of Wisconsin, and Will H.

Leetonia, at 8:35 o'clock this morning.

Dickens, hauling scrap iron in his

FRENCH FLYERS PLAN SEA HOP IN GAS BALLOON

"No Motor, No Fuel, No Worry," Says Lucien Dodin.

TWO-PART BAG

Upper Chamber Hermetically Sealed; Wind Only Concern.

PARIS.—No motor, no fuel, no "worry"—thus lightened, Lucien Dodin, inventor of aeronautical devices used by the French army will set out across the Atlantic this year in a newly-designed balloon that he says never loses gas.

Believing the tragic end of numerous trans-oceanic flights proved that progress in airplane motor construction is at a standstill Dodin decided the ancient balloon could stage a "comeback." Jules Verne, novelist, who foresaw submarines and airplanes about fifty years ago, wrote a book entitled "Five Weeks in a Balloon." Dodin says this book inspired the idea for his new balloon.

Dodin avers his balloon can be stabilized at any altitude without sacrifice of gas or ballast. The bag is horizontally divided into two parts.

The upper chamber is inflated with gas and hermetically sealed so that none of the gas can escape. Through the lower chamber circulates hot air which is generated by the action of chemicals on platinum. The heat in the air filled chamber can be increased or diminished and the balloon thus lowered or elevated.

Lightning and wind are Dodin's only concern. He believes airplanes and balloons run the same danger of lightning while air currents in the South Atlantic render a balloon crossing from Casablanca to Brazil a mere jaunt.

Syrians Give up 40,000 Firearms; Rebellion Ends

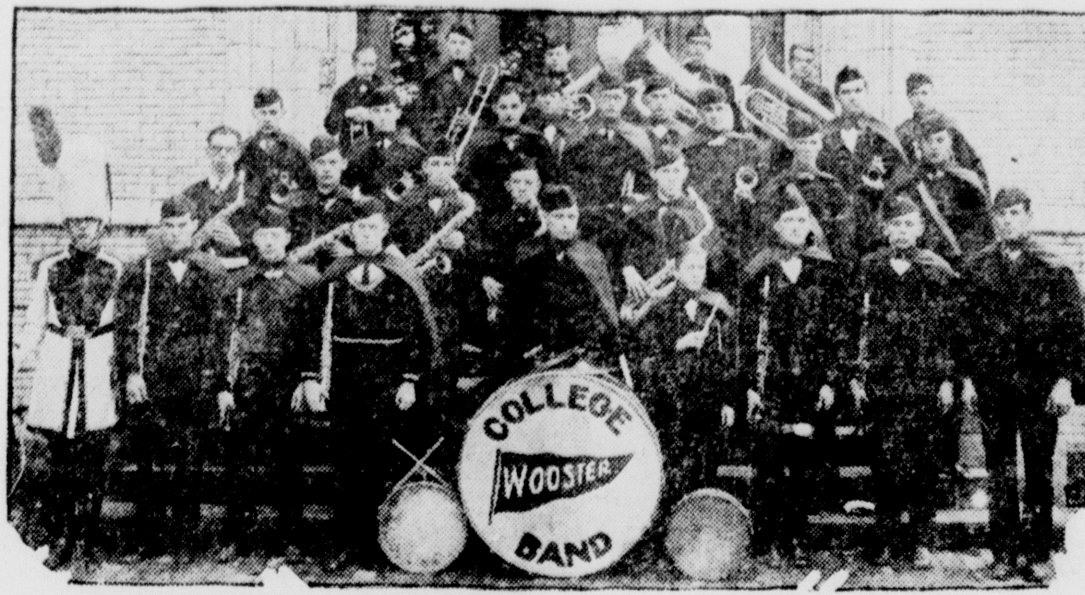

BEIRUT.—Syria is gradually being disarmed about 40,000 firearms having been collected from the people since the suppression of the rebellion in Syria and the Lebanon.

A condition of the cessation of hostilities on the part of the French troops was the voluntary surrender of all arms by the non-combatants at the time the active rebels were forced to lay down their arms. The response to the appeal was far from general and the authorities have taken to conducting searches in houses where there was a suspicion of weapons being concealed.

The net spread by the authorities resulted in the confiscation of 21,755 rifles and 2,822 other firearms in Syria and of 7,266 rifles and 5,433 revolvers in the Lebanon.

The Wooster College band plays at all of the football games, both at home and away, at the home basketball games, and at some of the baseball games.

The final appearance of the band for this season will be at commencement when the organization will give an hour concert on the Quadrangle as a part of the sixty-eighth annual commencement program.

Health Condition Vastly Improved In Soviet Army

MOSCOW.—Health conditions in the Red army and fleet are reported to have improved 100 per cent by H. A. Semashko, Commissar of Health, since pre-war days. The mortality rate, M. Shemashko said, has been cut in half. It was 8 per thousand in 1913 and only 4 in 1927.

Deaths from tuberculosis were reduced three-fourths among privates and nine-tenths among the officers. In 1913 out of every 100 men suffering from the white plague 19 died. Last year the mortality was cut to five.

The intensive sanitation campaign giving attention to minute details like compulsory brushing of teeth and bathing together with improved housing conditions is given by Dr. Semashko as the reason for improved health.

An invasion of gypsies into Cannes, France, recently caused a protest to authorities that the unwelcome visitors were "too dirty."

State Owned Airport For Providence, R. I., Finds Wide Approval

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—The wide-spread sentiment in support of a modern state owned airport at or near Providence, resulted from the recent mass meeting here at which nationally known speakers urged its desirability. Letters in support of the plan from Governor Norman S. Case, Senator Jesse H. Metcalf and Mayor James E. Dunne were read.

Some 800 persons present at the meeting voted approval and a resolution favoring a speedy legislative provision for Rhode Island airport was adopted.

WORLD'S TONIC IS WONDERFUL

East Liverpool Man Amazed at Benefit From Systemic Treatment of Catarrh

"I will frankly say the first bottle of World's Tonic didn't do my catarrh much good, but the way the second bottle has improved me is wonderful," a well known carpenter of Fenton street told the World's Tonic man. He had just come back to buy his third bottle.

"Nothing ever helped me like World's Tonic, and I believe this treatment is going to relieve my catarrh entirely," he continued. "What World's Tonic has done for me is nothing short of remarkable. I have had catarrh of the head for sixteen years. My breath got so bad I was ashamed to go near anybody. I had a constant ringing in my ears and if I caught the least bit of cold my head stopped up and the sound in my ears was like an engine letting off steam. Dry scabs formed in my nose and caused me such distress that I had to be picking them out constantly. My eyes were effected, burned and became watery and got so weak I couldn't see the figures on my rule and square, without eye glasses.

"World's Tonic has helped every bit of this trouble. My eyes are stronger and do not water or burn, the ringing in my ears is gone, my breath is much better and I feel improved generally. Certainly I advise everybody suffering from catarrh to use World's Tonic because I have never found anything to equal it and I have been taking all kinds of medicines and treatment for sixteen years."

The druggist will explain this treatment to all callers. Sold at Car-nahan's also C. N. Brannan's, Wells-ville, and all other good druggists. (253).

24 Midland Students Go to Washington

Graduates and Teachers Entrain Tonight for Five-day Visit in National Capital.

MIDLAND, Pa., April 20.—Party of 24 Lincoln high school seniors and teachers will board a Pennsylvania railroad train at 7:05 o'clock tonight for the graduating class' annual five-day trip to Washington, D. C.

Reaching the Capital City tomorrow morning, the pupils will spend three days visiting government buildings, historic scenes and national shrines. A side trip to Annapolis, Md., location of the United States Naval Academy, will be made.

Tuesday morning, the party will again board a Pennsylvania train enroute back to Midland. Arrangements have been completed for a two-hour stop-over in Harrisburg on the return journey, giving the pupils an opportunity to visit Pennsylvania's state capital.

Those in the party besides Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. McGovern, chaperones, are: Helen Veronovich, Kathryn Bream, Gertrude Schorr, Anna Camp, Jean Cook, Joseph Morgan, Paul Samuels, Mildred Haas, Harold Sapp, William Low, Louise Schulte, Manfred Coccoch, John Graham, Anna Hill, Dorothy Blach, Helen Dawson, Thomas Laughlin, Donald Calloun, Ada Graham, Virginia Cook, Irwin Sigal, and Isadore Rosen.

CROWDS ATTEND BENEFIT MOVIE

MIDLAND, Pa., April 20.—Receipts from the motion picture, "The Fire Brigade," shown at the State theatre for the benefit of the Midland Volunteer fire department will be used for improvements in the department's recreation room in the municipal building. Both performances were well attended.

LOVE YOUR JOB, LECTURER SAYS

Dr. Frank W. Hays Speaks in Methodist Church.

MIDLAND, Pa., April 20.—"Be in love with your job and there will be no danger of your trying to just 'get by' in life," declared Dr. Frank W. Hays, of Wooster college, last night, delivering the final lecture of the series sponsored by the women of the Methodist Episcopal church. Dr. Hays spoke on "The Bugle Call to Service of the World."

He asserted that those who do not love their work almost inevitably become slovenly in its performance, illustrating his points with anecdotes and examples.

Dr. Hays, now head of the history department of Wooster college, was reared as a boy in industry. He recounted several personal experiences of his youth in industry and Midland, which he termed "the rim of my playground as a boy."

Dinner-meeting of the Men's Brotherhood of the church preceded the lecture.

Debt That Must be Paid

Men and women of Ohio will go to the polls next Tuesday to participate in the presidential preference primary—to select delegates to attend the Republican national convention.

It is of the utmost importance that every man and woman legally entitled to vote exercise his or her franchise—it is of the utmost importance for two reasons: First, because there is a most unusual situation in Ohio Republican circles at this time, and second, because it is absolutely essential that an unrestricted, unpledged, open-minded delegation be sent to Kansas City.

Senator Frank B. Willis is dead, but his name will appear on every ballot at the presidential preference primary, and beneath his name there will appear the names of delegates who were pledged to his candidacy as Ohio's favorite son for the presidential nomination.

In the Eighteenth congressional district there is a full ticket of delegates and alternates to be voted upon—Willis' delegates and alternates—as well as the delegates-at-large. It is imperative that no mistake be made by the voters and that they appreciate what they are doing at the polls.

A vote for the Willis' delegates and alternates, and the Willis delegates-at-large is a vote for an unhampered delegation of 51 from Ohio to the Republican convention—a vote for a delegation pledged to no man or no clique, but pledged to the voters of Ohio to exercise their collective judgment in the interests of the best available material presented for the nomination as the Republican choice for president.

And if the Republican convention, over which Senator Simeon D. Fess, of Ohio—Senator Willis' colleague in the United States senate—will preside as temporary chairman and keynote speaker, exercises the judgment it normally exercises and is not stampeded by ballyhoo for this candidate or that candidate, but nominates the man best fitted for the job, the Republican nomination in June is tantamount to election in November.

In the Eighteenth district it is important that the regular Willis' delegates and alternates and the candidates for delegate-at-large be swept into the places they seek, for if they are it will add that much strength to the entire Willis' delegation when it reaches Kansas City and begins functioning as an unstructured, unpledged unit.

The problem now is not who will receive the convention endorsement, inasmuch as Senator Willis will not be there to carry on the fight for himself. The problem now is to send to Kansas City a delegation pledged to no man—just as the Pennsylvania and the Massachusetts electorates will do when they go to the polls at their presidential preference primaries next Tuesday.

The candidates for delegate-at-large at Tuesday's primary are Senator Simeon D. Fess, Carl A. Thompson, A. Lee Beatty, E. W. Edwards, Mrs. Wilma Sinclair Lee Van, Fred W. Warner and Edward Vollrath.

The Willis' candidates from the Eighteenth district are Louis H. Brush, Salem, and Howard L. Wickersham, Steubenville, delegates, and H. M. Murphy, of Barnesville, and George S. Thelin, Carrollton, alternates.

It is traditional in Ohio Republican circles that the favorite son gets the undivided support of all Republicans. That was the case with Warren G. Harding, with William McKinley, and Rutherford B. Hayes, with William Howard Taft, Benjamin Harrison, James A. Garfield and Ulysses S. Grant—all stalwart Republicans and all natives of Ohio—the mother of presidents.

Recognition for Women

Suffrage for women certainly is bring them into recognition in national party councils in constantly increasing numbers. And justly so.

Already 22 Republican and 32 Democratic women, one of the latter the daughter of Gov. Smith of New York, have been selected to attend the national conventions of the major parties. While only seven of this number are delegates, the others are alternates, and many of them will be on hand at the pow-wow.

Influence of women in national politics is going to be felt a great deal more this year than ever before. It will be the first time in Ohio, for instance, where the women may engage in a presidential preference primary. They had the elective right four years ago, but there was no preference to be expressed, hence the vote did the women no good.

But this year there are delegates to be chosen to the Republican convention representing more than one candidate, which gives the women the right to exercise their judgment in naming their preference.

The day of nominating presidential candidates, or candidates for any lesser office, for that matter, in a smoke-filled back room some place is going into the discard. With the women active in politics, one may rest assured that politics will be above board where everyone may view what is transpiring.

March of Progress

The telephone wires recently carried news of the disposal at auction for $20 of the courthouse at Ashland, O.—a building 75 years old and erected at a cost of $20,000, the money raised by popular subscription. The building will be razed to make room for a modern structure.

When the Ashland courthouse was erected three-quarters of a century ago it very likely was the object of much laudatory comment. And there probably were some of the sturdy pioneers of that day who ventured the belief that $20,000 was too much money to put into any public building.

The fact, however, that this ancient landmark has withstood the ravages of the elements and time for so long is pretty satisfactory proof that $20,000 worth of material and labor went into its erection.

However, the march of progress finally has enveloped the land mark, and it will soon give way to a more useful county building.

Have you registered? It not, do so tomorrow.

Absentee voters, don't disfranchise yourselves. Saturday is the deadline under the absent electors' law.

Earthquakes and war keep Bulgaria on the front page.

HASKIN DAILY LETTER

By Frederick J. Haskin

DASHINGTON, D. C., April 20.—The forty-ninth general convention of the Episcopal church will be held in Washington on October 10-28 next, bringing to the national capital one of the most notable gatherings of churchmen and women the country has ever witnessed. The attendance is expected to reach 25,000 and will include distinguished leaders of the church and its subsidiary organizations from all parts of the United States and from many foreign countries as well.

At least 140 of the 150 bishops of the church are expected to be present, and there will be clerical and lay delegates from 72 dioceses and from 31 missionary districts in all parts of the world, 500 women delegates from the Women's Auxiliary to the National Council, and delegates from church agencies in various fields of religious activity—in all, probably 2500 officially designated delegates.

Important questions of church policy and organization will be debated and settled by the House of Bishops and the House of Deputies, which constitute the governing body of the church. This body is not unlike the Congress of the United States, the House of Bishops corresponding to the senate and the house of deputies to the house of representatives. There is this difference, however, the House of Bishops is the final authority and has the veto power over the house of deputies, which is the popular body and is composed of four clerical and four lay delegates from each diocese. In the House of Bishops all bishops are of equal rank, the senior presiding.

General conventions of the Episcopal church are held every three years, the last one having been held in New Orleans. The first one was held 143 years ago, when delegates from seven colonies south of Connecticut, laymen as well as clergymen, met in Philadelphia to arrange for triennial general conventions and to make application to the archbishops of England to consecrate bishops for America. A meeting was held the following year in Wilmington, and the third general convention was held in Philadelphia in 1789, when the "Constitution and Canons" of the church were adopted and the prayer book was revised. Thirty years ago the thirty-ninth general convention was held in Washington.

Construction work on the great Washington cathedral is being pushed with all expedition in order to have it sufficiently far advanced that some of the meetings of the general convention can be held there next October. Bishop Freeman has stated that every effort is being made to push forward to completion the great choir of the cathedral and the crossing and to have them in readiness for the opening service of the convention on the morning of October 10. The space afforded will seat approximately 3200 people. As this will be the first service held in this completed portion of the Washington Cathedral, it will be a matter of national importance.

Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, who has been the personal physician to several presidents of the United States, is the chairman of the general convention committee of the diocese of Washington. The secretary of the general convention committee is H. T. Nelson, a Virginian, whose great-grandfather was Governor of York Town when Lord Cornwallis surrendered.

Among the bishops from abroad who will be in attendance at the coming general convention in Washington are: Graves, of Shanghai; McKim, of Japan; Rowe, of Alaska; Mosher, of the Philippines; La Mothe, of the Sandwich Islands; Campbell, of Liberia; Morris, of Panama; Carson, of Haiti; Comore, of Porto Rico; Hulse, of Cuba; and Creighton, of Mexico.

Of the more prominent American bishops there will be Freeman, of Washington; Brent, of western New York, who was chaplain in chief on the staff of General Pershing during the World war; Lawrence, of Massachusetts; Gailor, of Tennessee; Burleson, of South Dakota; Beecher, of Nebraska; Tucker, of Virginia; Slattery, of Massachusetts, and Manning, of New York.

Questions And Answers

By Frederick J. Haskin

The resources of our free Information Bureau are at your service. You are invited to call upon it as often as you please. It is being maintained solely to serve you. What question can we answer for you? There is no charge at all except two cents in stamps for return postage. Address your letter to the East Liverpool Review Information Bureau, Frederick J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C.

Q. What nationality of Brocco, the six-day bicycle racer? A. P.

A. Maurice Brocco is a Frenchman.

Q. Who was the first woman to be electrocuted in Ohio? C. R.

A. The Warden of the Ohio penitentiary says that never in the history of the State of Ohio has a woman been electrocuted.

Q. What piano selection is considered the most difficult? V. M. G.

A. Opinions differ. One musician says that "Campanella" arranged by Franz Liszt and his "Hungarian Rhapsodies" are certainly among the extremely difficult ones.

Q. Who first used the phrase "The Lord's Supper"? E. K.

A. This is the name given by Saint Paul to the commemorative ordinance instituted by Christ on the evening preceding His crucifixion.

Q. Are the playgrounds now seen in Belgium recently established? C. E. S.

A. In Belgium before the war a childrens playground was unknown. They were introduced by the American Red Cross as a testimony of friendship of American children for their little Belgian friends.

Q. How is the flavor of food influenced by a rising temperature? M. G.

A. Flavor is the first thing to disappear when the temperature of foods rises. It suffers also if the air gets too dry or too moist.

Q. Is the Corcoran School of Art in Washington, D. C., a free school? H. A. L.

A. Under the terms of the gift of the late William Wilson Corcoran, the founder of the Gallery and the School, there is no charge for tuition. Each student is required to pay an annual entrance fee of $10, which can not be refunded under any circumstances. Students may enter the school at any time during the school season.

NEW YORK Day By Day

By O. O. McIntyre.

NEW YORK, April 20.—Thoughts while strolling: Clarence Mackay looking into a Postal Telegraph window at Fifth avenue and 46th street. The set expression of lifted faces. What's become of Mary Miles Minter. South Americans with gaudy muffers and Napoleonic sideburns.

All the old Fifth avenue mansions in midtown are gone—save one. The exception is Helen Gould's home. Where grim dignity stalked now glitters the tiffin temples, the wheat cake castles, hat salons and the opulent facades of hotels. Charlie Journal, the Montmartre head waiter.

Those chez places that spell it "tailleur." Mencken with a leather briefcase. Chirping birds fluttering in the Plaza fountain. A woman wheeling a baby carriage and reading "Oliver Twist." Upstairs art shops that never seem to have a customer. Ruth Raphael, of Harper's. Wonder how "The Ladder" revision is coming along?

The shabby genteel who sit on the benches along the park wall. Dogs with their names embroidered on blankets. Butlers with those white celluloid Ascot ties. Magnificent apartment houses known only by numbers. And never showing anything so vulgar as activity.

The red bricked Andrew Carnegie home with high iron fence. And the barred windows in the Otto Kahn home. And a few steps beyond the upper Fifth avenue ghetto with its push cart jabber. Bearded patriarchs who sit in doorways reading the Talmud. Salt rising bread.

Barber shops with radios. Mexican cafes featuring enchiladas, conchitas, tortillas and frijoles. And outside tables where they play cubito and dominoes. Licorice water. Hokey-pokey. Parboiled and salted watermelon seeds. And two street organs to a block.

Cinemas with wild west posters. Red cabbage soup — three cents a bowl. An atheist hotdoggerling from a soap box. But the crowd is around the Salvation Army speakers. Gaping doorways. Haridoms. The smell of poverty.

On upper Fifth avenue the children play a game called "Chucko," a variant of "Heaven." It is highly disrespectful of age. They have a jack-pot in which they put pennies and then roam the sidewalks in packs. When they see a white beard they scamper toward it and the first to chuck the owner under the chin and cry "Chucko" wins the pot.

Three men of Broadway in that many years have violated a code of Broadway strictly observes and goes quietly into oblivion. They struck women. For a street that lives so loosely this unpardonable sin is so difficult to grasp. Yet it is unfailing in its thumbs down attitude.

All three violators were more or less prominent when they forgot themselves and indulged cave man tactics. Men have lived off women without Broadway lifting a supercilious eyelid. They have publicly blasphemed them.

They have led them to dishonor and taunted them to self-destruction and have been still accepted by their fellows. But when a hand has been lifted, that has been something else again and Broadway drops them like the proverbial hot cakes.

They become social pariahs, snubbed wherever they go—outcasts among the panderers, gigolos and such. No matter how low a man may fall in the social scale he still has a chance in the Broadway fellowship if he has never snatched a lady.

But if a woman strikes a man in the Broadway circles that becomes her inspiration for a lusty cheer. A dawn in a night club is nothing to stay up about unless some gentleman receives a moussed optic as the result of being on the business end of a lady's wallop. All the sympathy he gets is a hearty laugh and cries of "Sock him again!"

Incidentally, an Amazonian lady in a chop house within the week mistook me for someone else and threatened to punch me. I'm glad she discovered her mistake in time. I'm not put together any too well.

No mad Yes.

Whether Jack Dempsey intends to return to the ring seems to depend on whether the interviewer catches him before or after lunch. After his appearance in New York the other day some of the newspapers carried the unqualified statement that the ex-champion was through and could not be induced to fight again for love or even for money. Some of the others whose reporters saw Jack after lunch instead of before came away with the opposite impression; that he might fight even for the love of the game, but that for another half million certainly he would be at Ted Rickard's mercy.

Some significance may attach to the fact that Dempsey brought his training paraphernalia, Jerry the Greek and all, to New York where he expects to remain for a month or two; and that his manager has selected an eastern training ground with golf course and everything.

Of course Dempsey may be determined to remain in condition so he may act as alternate in the Tunney-Heeney fight in the event one of the contestants should be unable to perform. He admits this should be a good fight. But with a number of others he seems skeptical of its drawing power. The heavyweight championship tournament which Rickard has been staging since the Dempsey-Tunney go in Chicago has not been a financial success and the ballyhoosers are finding it difficult to write good copy even on the forthcoming bout.

Dempsey has never posed as a learned man. But he doubtless comprehends as well as anyone that despite his physical disabilities which leave him somewhat short of "game, halt and blind" he is the best gate attraction the fight game has; and that if Rickard is interested in that aspect of the situation, as well as in determining the heavyweight championship of the world, he may draft him again at the drafter's own figure.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Once Overs

WHEN APPRECIATION IS NECESSARY.

Perhaps you think you are very much Mrs. Somebody.

You would not like to hear any one say as much, either to your face, or in discussions with friends.

But there was a time, during your childhood, when you did not have a mother's care—possibly it was a father, you lacked.

Perhaps you had parents but they were busy and thoughtless and you were left much to yourself.

At any rate you were lonely and unhappy.

Do you remember a sweet-faced mother or a kind father with a big family of boys and girls who lived near you and who often invited you to join them in their happy family parties?

You were so glad to go, and you had such a good time.

You never tried to be agreeable, but you enjoyed it and sometimes you think of it now.

Now that you are not under obligations to outsiders to give you a pleasant time, what do you do for those former friends or their children, to show your appreciation of what they did for you in your childhood? Be grateful.

"Glad to see you!"

Friendliness has no substitute. You see an old pal coming along the street. You meet, clasp hands and each says, "Glad to see you!" Each knows the other means it.

That's the kind of spirit which prevails at Potters National. This is more than a place of business. To our customers it is a friendly, helpful counsellor, always eager to serve and co-operate.

We know you'll like to bank here. As a starter, come in and let us tell you how we can help you with your financial problems. No obligation, of course.

Chinese Business Men and Students To Tour Japan

PEKING.—Two parties of Chinese are preparing a special tour of Japan. One is to be composed of students from the American Boxer Indemnity college at Tsing Hua while the other is under the auspices of the Peking General Chamber of Commerce. With an idea of developing the general knowledge of the Tsing Hua undergraduates, the college is sending a party to Japan with all expenses paid. The visit will be made early this spring. The business men will be conducted by the former chairman of the local Chamber of Commerce on a tour of Japan and the East Indies. It is possible that the group may go on to Europe.

Fugitive is Captured After Exciting Chase

Lawrence Wheatley Held for Grand Jury After he Defies Police, Disarms Hunter and Commandeers Automobile in Flight Across Bridge.

Lawrence Wheatley, 35 Duane street, was bound over to await the action of the grand jury in $5,000 bond when arraigned last night before Justice A. G. Allison on charges of stealing an automobile and shot gun and pointing firearms. He was remanded to jail at New Cumberland. His arrest, which took place at Fourth and College streets, East Liverpool, followed a spectacular chase in which Chief of Police Ralph Allison was joined by a large number of citizens who pursued the fugitive down the railroad tracks to the bridge where he commandeered an automobile, forcing the driver, at the point of a rifle and shot gun, to take him to East Liverpool.

Armed with a warrant for Wheatley's arrest on a charge of assaulting Mrs. Joseph Bambico, Chief Allison went to his home shortly before 4 o'clock. As the officer approached, Wheatley, it is said, ran to the front porch and, arming himself with a rifle, defied Allison to enter the home. He then leaped from the porch and ran down Fifth street to the railroad tracks. Allison gave chase. Leaving the tracks at the bridge, Wheatley met Dale Finley who was hunting wild ducks. Pointing his rifle at Finley, Wheatley forced him to surrender his gun.

Armed with rifle and shotgun, Wheatley retraced his steps to the bridge. Here he halted an automobile driven by Percy Willison, Carolina avenue barber. Directing Willison to throw up his hands, Wheatley forced him to drive across the bridge. Alighting on the other side he ran up College street, where he surrendered. Protestant church. Burial was made in New Cumberland cemetery.

Missing Indiana Banker Only one Jump Ahead of Oklahoma Authorities

ENID, Okla. — "Colonel" Jimmy Lang, 73-year-old missing banker, of Sullivan, Indiana, apparently is a jump or two ahead of authorities who are seeking an accounting for the $260,000 shortage from his bank, and incidentally, a $10,000 reward offered for his apprehension. According to Sheriff C. E. Baker, of Enid, "Colonel" Jimmy was here several weeks ago, under the name of Thomas Campbell and had baggage sent here from Indiana. Alice Benson, a nurse, came here a short time before, from Sullivan, and worked in a local hospital, the sheriff stated. Soon after the arrival of the aged man, the two made a mysterious departure. Sheriff Baker declared.

City "Clean-up" Plan Announced by Mayor

Asks Co-operation of Citizens; Wants Backyards, Property in General, Beautified.

Mayor Wallace L. Fogo today called upon citizens of Wellsville to co-operate in the city's annual "clean-up" period, beginning tomorrow and continuing until the end of the month. By means of the "clean-up," the mayor expects to be able to rid city streets, back yards, sidewalks and property in general of the winter's accumulation of debris of various kinds. Debris may be hauled to the dumps at the ends of Fourth street and Tenth street, but garbage must be taken to 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Sunday school and vacant plots to be converted into the incinerator in Spring Hill avenue, flower beds or gardens. City forces will be set to work cleaning up streets.

JOHN HUNTER, AGED 83, DIES

Salineville Civil War Veteran Succumbs in Home.

John Hunter, 83 years old, Civil war veteran, died last night at 5 o'clock in his home in Salineville. He was born in Scotland. His parents came to America when he was four years old. He first lived in Washington county, Pa., and then went to Salineville. On May 2, 1864, he enlisted with Co. A, of the 143rd O. V. I., for service during the Civil war. He was a member of Sergeant Thompson post, G. A. R., of Salineville.

For a number of years he had been a merchant. In addition to his widow he is survived by four sons and four daughters: William, Joseph and Charles, Salineville; J. E., Byesville, O.; Mrs. Helen Lucas, Jennie and Mary, Salineville; Mrs. Anna Abrams, Cleveland; a brother, Joseph, of Charleroi, Pa., and a sister, Mrs. Margaret Carahan, Donora, Pa. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in charge of Rev. H. L. Peoples of the Methodist Episcopal church. Burial will be made in Woodland cemetery.

CARD PARTY IS WELL ATTENDED

Palestine Passport Given no Preference In United Kingdom

JERUSALEM. — An official announcement that Palestine citizens enjoy no preferences in the United Kingdom, but must comply with the regulations applying to all aliens to be barred at the port of arrival in England has come as a rude shock to Palestinians who fancied themselves citizens of the Empire. Encouragement for this belief was furnished in the Palestine passport resembling in many respects the ordinary British travel document, with words "British Passport" printed in bold type on the cover and the name "Palestine" printed in conspicuously small type underneath. A travel document not honored by the government under whose auspices it was issued can be of no great value, Palestinians maintain.

Turkestan Adopts Death Penalty to Curb Criminals

MAHACH-KALA, Turkestan. — The death penalty has been invoked to curb a mania for criminal assault on girls which has cropped up in all part of the Soviet Union. Two Persians who became Soviet citizens were convicted and shot to death for attacking a 19-year-old girl, Mary Saltikova, and her illegitimate child, 3 years old. The men were charged with luring the girl to their apartment by a fake newspaper advertisement asking for a servant. Three men bound and gagged her and held her a prisoner in the house for two days. Police raided the place on her complaint. The trial lasted only two hours. Two of the men were executed 48 hours later and the third sentenced to 10 years hard labor in the Turkestan fortress prison.

Rancher Rejects Offer of $1,000 For Eyeglasses

WASTONVILLE, Cal.—Money will not buy the spectacles belonging to W. W. Wells, local rancher. He has refused an offer of $1,000 and declares that he will not sell the eyeglasses for ten times that amount.

That is because their value lies not in their power of aiding the vision, but in their history. For these spectacles, with their rusty steel rims and huge ear bars, adorned the nose of no less a person than William Williams, twenty-third, signer of the Declaration of Independence, an ancestor of their present owner.

The $1,000 offer to purchase them was made by the Massachusetts Historical Society.

National Trades Meet Scheduled At Fort Worth

FORT WORTH.—Many prominent speakers, including business men, educators and statesmen, will address the Fifteenth National Trades Convention which meets here April 25, 26 and 27.

Don Carlos G. Davila, Chilean ambassador to the United States, will be one of the featured speakers, according to present plans.

Another prominent Latin-American who is scheduled to speak being the trade envoy is Manuel Mayo Barroch, an official of the Cuban government.

George Auld, former accountant general of the Reparations Committee, will discuss "The Prospect in Europe." Nine executives from seven of the largest export centers of the nation will discuss American merchandising processes.

Sweet and tasty Sugardale Baked Ham

TREAT your family to an exceptional dinner—give them Sugardale Baked Ham tomorrow or Sunday.

Ham exceptional? You'll say this ham is. Everyone who tries it says Sugardale Baked Ham is the sweetest, most toothsome meat they ever tasted. It's made of specially selected sugar-cured ham, smothered in brown sugar and cloves, and slowly baked to a melting sweetness. There's no ham quite like it, and the best part of it is, this delicacy comes to you ready to serve—there's no hot cooking, no work of any kind for you to do.

Sugardale Baked Ham is this week's Sugardale Spécial, featured today and tomorrow at all leading independent stores. Buy it by the slice or buy a whole or half ham. You'll delight the family and save yourself.

Sugardale

All Sugardale Meats are specially cured with a delightful flavor all their own. And they are all easy to identify—wrapped for purity, and known by the famous blue diamond.

CANADA HITS DIVERSION OF LAKE WATERS

Dominion Ties up Mississippi Valley Development.

CHICAGO BLAMED

Ottawa Asks Protection of Her Waterpower Rights.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Plans for the Mississippi valley deep waterway development were tied in a knot today by Canada's refusal to sanction diversion of Lake Michigan waters to the Chicago sanitary district.

The dominion government remains adamant in its contention that the Chicago diversion must be stopped.

Two years' correspondence on the subject between Ottawa and Washington was made public today.

Twice within a week Canada has revealed her intention of blocking waterway projects until the United States guarantees adequate protection of her St. Lawrence waterpower rights. The St. Lawrence correspondence, published yesterday, showed the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence ocean channel deadlocked on the same issue.

Rejecting the United States' proposal for compensation works in the St. Clair river to maintain the present lake level, Vincent Massey, Canadian minister, declared vigorously in his last note that his government would not even discuss such construction as long as the fundamental question, the legality of the Chicago diversion under international law, remained unsettled in principle.

Throughout the involved correspondence Secretary of State Kellogg studiously avoided admission that Chicago had violated any Canadian right. His utmost concession in that direction was that the whole subject was one for negotiation—not upon abstract legal concepts but rather on the basis of the complicated technical problems of a 25-year reality.

Await Court Decision.

The federal government's authority in the case is expected to be clarified here soon by the supreme court's decision in pending litigation involving thirteen states. Arguments on the findings and conclusions of Charles Evans Hughes, who conducted exhaustive hearings in the state cases a year ago, are scheduled to begin before the full court next Tuesday.

Illinois, Missouri, Kentucky, Tennessee, Louisiana and Mississippi are on the Chicago side, because of their interest in the Mississippi development; Minnesota, Wisconsin, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York are aligned to restore the former lake levels.

Hughes upheld the right of the federal government to regulate the withdrawal at will, regardless of sanitary consequences to Chicago. His findings will be argued by both sides and the ultimate decision framed by the court itself.

This proceeding, however, which has come to be generally recognized as the most involved and extensive litigation in history, has had an important bearing upon the international correspondence. Until the jurisdiction of the federal government was clearly defined, Kellogg cannot engage with Canada upon any program of adjustment. Canada has been represented throughout the Hughes' hearings by three attorney-observers but has never been a party in the proceedings.

CHINA announces a competition, with prizes for the best Chinese anthem, open to all Chinese. A hymn is also wanted for the Kuomintang party, and an anthem to honor the Chinese revolution. How would you begin such a hymn or anthem?

Something will be produced, strange to our ears, but an inspiration to the Chinese as Rouget De Lisle's battle song, the "Marseillaises."

WHEN our present peace was still young K. Ogden Armour said, "Talk about big profits. Why, Armour & Co., made less than $25,000,000 last year. When I think of Carnegie, Rockefeller and others that have real money, I feel like a gypsy."

Oil Trial Near End

permitted to inform the jury that at the trial of the Fall Sinclair case last October, Martin W. Littleton, Sinclair attorney, had stated, "Evidence will show beyond a reasonable doubt that Sinclair never passed—or caused to be passed—a single bond to Fall."

Fall Lied, Says Prosecution.

Roberts in his closing argument hammered home point after point in the testimony indicating that a veil of secrecy had been thrown over the Sinclair deal and that other oil men had been frozen out in their efforts to bid on Teapot Dome.

"Fall lied and lied and lied," he declared, "and he shifted and shifted and shifted."

He then asked the jury what they thought of the failure of the defense to introduce Fall's deposition.

"Was there fraud?" he asked. "If there wasn't, let Fall speak. If there was even one snitch in that deposition that would help Sinclair do you think these astute lawyers would have withheld it from you? Why didn't they page Mr. Fall?"

Chinese Northern Army Defeated.

SHANGHAI, April 20.—Marshal Chang Tso Lin's northern army has been decisively defeated with heavy losses by the southerners in battle along the Peking-Hankow railway in Chihli province.

GAS JET CAUSES EAST END FIRE

Damage estimated at $50 was caused by fire in a dwelling owned by John Dobbs and occupied by Eliza Talbot and family, Paisley street, shortly after 6 o'clock this morning. The blaze, which was discovered in the side of the house, was said by firemen to have been caused by a swinging gas jet. It was extinguished with chemicals.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, April 20.—Industrial stocks rallied sharply from the opening declines which registered the market's first response to the higher discount rates and the $134,000,000 increase in speculative borrowings announced after the close of Thursday's market. Stocks which declined in the maximum of 5 to 7 points at the opening recovered 4 to 6 points of that loss before the end of the first half hour.

Radio's 7-point slump to 17½ was the severest setback recorded in the opening period, but the stock recovered to 18½ in heavy trading in short order. General Motors opened at 189, and recovered to 191, and almost duplicate market records were made by United States Steel, American Can and a score or more of the speculative favorites.

Stock sales in the first half hour were approximately 600,000 shares, making this one of the most active periods of the most sensational movement ever known to Wall street.

The motor, steel and copper stocks forged ahead in good form in the second hour, under the stimulus of strong speculative buying. Anaconda Copper, Cerro de Pasco, United States Steel, Bethlehem and Yellow Truck stood at the head of their class in activity and brilliant price movements. Republic Iron and Steel was also a favorite.

Chicago Grains.

CHICAGO, April 20.—Grains opened lower today. Wheat was down 1½ to 2½, corn 1 to 1½ and oats 1½ to 1¾. Opening prices:

TRUCK KILLS BOY, DRIVER IS HELD

AKRON, O., April 20.—Funeral arrangements were being completed today for William McElowney, 5, who was killed instantly late yesterday when run over by a two-ton truck. The child was playing on the sidewalk when the truck backed out of a driveway and crushed him. Ross Freshwater, driver, is held for manslaughter.

Ford Plane Hops

"Duke" Schiller, who was the first to reach the island and brought Fitzmaurice to Murray bay, has been abandoned and the rest of the rescue job has been turned over to the Ford plane.

It is not likely, according to Robert Cannon, president of the Trans-Continental Airways company, that the Bre-men will make the hop to New York without a stop because the amount of fuel which will be taken to Greenlee Island will not be sufficient for the 1,500 mile flight.

The second Trans-Continental Airways plane to reach the island was today at Sacre Coeur, a small hamlet 20 miles east of Murray bay.

The plane, piloted by A. Vachon and carrying several newspapermen, one an International News Service correspondent, left Greenlee Island yesterday morning after a two-day stay with the German airmen. It headed for Murray bay but was forced down at Sacre Coeur by the blinding snowstorm sweeping the region.

PRESIDENT'S NAME INJECTED INTO FIGHT IN D. A. R. RANKS

Insurgents Turn Tables in Controversy Over "Blacklist."

LETTER QUOTED
Nation's Chief Praised Ford Hall Forum of Boston.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—The D. A. R. congress today decisively defeated the "blacklist" protest resolutions submitted by the Kansas insurgent delegation.

Only 14 delegates arose when the question of supporting the resolutions was put to a standing vote by Mrs. Alfred J. Brosseau, president general.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—President Coolidge's name was injected into the D. A. R.'s "blacklist" controversy today when the insurgent forces, led by Mrs. Helen Tufts Baillie of Massachusetts, took their fight before the resolutions' committee of the convention.

Turning the tables on the D. A. R. old guard, Mrs. Baillie exhibited to the committee a photostatic copy of a letter the president wrote to George H. Coleman, director of Ford Hall Forum of Boston, on March 23, warmly praising the work of the forum and citing it to other communities as an example of civic progress.

The Ford Hall Forum was one of the organizations prescribed in the famous "blacklist" because of its alleged tolerance of "radical speech."

Concerning this proscribed institution, the president wrote:

"It has been a vital influence in Boston and a good example for other communities. I hope it may be maintained under your (Coleman's) guiding hand for many years to come."

PLAN OVATION FOR AVIATORS

New York Arranges Reception for Bremen Crew.

NEW YORK, April 20.—Several million visitors—residents of this city and visitors—are expected to take part in the gigantic ovation which will be given to the trans-Atlantic aviators of the Bremen when they arrive from Greenlee Island. It will be one of the biggest demonstrations of its kind ever seen here, rivaling the reception of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

Capt. Koehl, Baron von Huenefeld and Major Fitzmaurice are expected on Tuesday, unless held up by bad weather. Already plans have been completed for the welcome and the city has appropriated $60,000 to defray the expenses of the municipality's part, $10,000.

part, $10,000 more than was voted for the Lindbergh reception.

Koehl and Fitzmaurice, who had been snatching bits of sleep at intervals, held the machine on what they thought was a southerly course. Below them they could see high, snow-clad mountains, great patches of forest and wide ice-filled rivers but no sign of human habitation.

Suddenly Fitzmaurice shouted: "A boat! A boat!"

He had seen the lighthouse on this island, mistaking it for a ship at sea. Koehl steered closer and the men saw it was a beacon on an island. The benzol was nearly exhausted and a landing had to be made. Persons on the island had seen the plane and ran out to greet the fliers.

Lyman Peck, specialist in poultry diseases, will give a lecture and demonstration in the Pottery auditorium, West Sixth street, at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening. The demonstration has been arranged by The F. P. Faulk & Sons company.

Peck has conducted post-mortem examinations of more than 15,000 chickens in the last four years.

He invites owners of ill chickens to bring their birds to the hall during the afternoon or evening. A diagnosis will be made of the ailments of each bird entered in the clinic.

Fliers Repair Plane

After a dreadful night of continuous perils, when the northern lights flickered through the Arctic sky, day dawned Friday and the sun came up a crimson ball out of the sea. Far below the airmen could see land. They knew they had reached America, but there were signs of a fresh storm.

Koehl and Fitzmaurice, who had been snatching bits of sleep at intervals, held the machine on what they thought was a southerly course. Below them they could see high, snow-clad mountains, great patches of forest and wide ice-filled rivers but no sign of human habitation.

Suddenly Fitzmaurice shouted: "A boat! A boat!"

Parents Get Verdict Against Estate of Killer.

YEAR-OLD CRIME

Belmont Farmer Ended Own Life After Murder.

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., April 20.—The parents of Mary Papeoch, 15, who was killed last year by Thomas Butler, 50 year old farmer, after the girl had refused to marry him, will receive $3,200 from Butler's estate, under the terms of a jury verdict on file in common pleas court here today.

Butler committed suicide after the killing. His estate is valued at about $4,000 and the dead girl's parents had sued for $10,000.

The girl, who went each day to the neighboring farm near Maynard where Butler and his brother lived alone, was shot by the bachelor, May 9, 1926, after reiterating her refusal to marry him. The rifle used in the crime, the girl's clothing and her picture were exhibits during the three-day trial.

DEFIANCE BOXER DIES AFTER BOUT

DEFIANCE, O., April 20.—Howard Buck Laine, 19, Defiance boxer, died in a hospital here today of injuries sustained in a match at Fort Wayne, Ind., Wednesday night.

Laine is said to have sustained concussion of the brain when his head struck the edge of the ring after he was knocked down by Frankie Jar, Fort Wayne, in the fifth round.

Laud Wilma LeVan

for delegate-at-large and for re-election to the position on the national committee which she has so ably filled since 1926. Returning her to the post of national committeewoman means that she will be able to continue to lead her organization and political ability to the strengthening of the Republican party in the state and the nation.

The two candidates for delegate from the Eighteenth district are Louis H. Brush, Salem, and Howard Wickersham, Steubenville. Both are publishers, regular Republicans of long standing and prominent for years in political battles in this part of the state.

Alternates for the district are George S. Tinlin, Carrollton, and H. H. Murphy, Barnesville. All four and Mrs. LeVan had been pledged to the late Senator Willis. Mrs. LeVan and Wickersham designated former Frank Lowden of Illinois as their second choice, while Brush named Colonel C. E. Fisher, Wilmington publisher, as his second choice.

Staunch Coolidge Advocate.

Colonel Fisher, having released all candidates pledged to him, Brush is left entirely unopposed and has pledged himself to support the best man in the field for the presidential nomination, and with associate candidates, has asked the preferences of party workers of the district.

Mrs. LeVan, however, has from the first been a staunch Coolidge advocate. Just after being named as one of the "big seven," she declared, February 21, that she would be for Coolidge if neither Mr. Willis nor Mr. Lowden could be nominated. "It will be his duty to accept if he should be nominated," she declared, and with the death of the Ohio leader to whom she was pledged, Mrs. LeVan still subscribes to the "Draft Coolidge" movement.

Brush, in a statement made March 20 at Washington, after returning from a Florida vacation, declared that the Ohio delegation would not be "hockeyed" and predicted that the Ohio group would go to the convention to bring out the best man in the party, whether it be "Willis, Lowden, Hoover, Daves or the possible re-nomination of President Coolidge."

The former Willis delegates throughout the state and this district are thus free to support the nomination of the party workers for their preferences in a direct vote to a fuller understanding of the desires of this part of the state regarding the candidates.

Onion of Pioneer Stock.
Mrs. LeVan, of course, can be counted upon to be one of the leaders of the delegation, if elected, to act in the best tradition of the Republican party, to aid wisely in the selection of the best fitted candidate that the convention produces, and to align herself with the forces that will seek to do its duty by party and country in having the best man named.

Paralleling her political activities that raised her from a county worker to a place on the national committee and to a niche in national politics, is a record of participation in the social, fraternal and philanthropic spheres. A native Ohioan of pioneer stock, she is a daughter of the American revolution on both sides of her family. Her father, the late D. J. Sinclair, a banker, was Steubenville's foremost citizen until his death and her mother was equally distinguished.

Mrs. LeVan first entered public work as chairlady of a committee of the women's division of the Council of National Defense. Here she first showed her aptitude as a leader. She is a member of the American Legion auxiliary and of the International Order of King's Daughters; she is regional vice president of the Eastern Gontz College association and was one of the founders and is a trustee of the Jefferson County Home for Aged Women. Her life has been marked by her position in church, literary, philanthropic and social clubs. Her home is a social mecca here and she has not yet forsaken the sport world, in which she held district tennis championships.

Began Career as Precinct Worker.
Mrs. LeVan began her political career as a precinct worker. Organizing Jefferson county women was her next step and from there she took the next unit, the eighteenth district. She was vice president of the county executive committee in the Harding campaign in 1920 and spent three years in organizing the district.

In 1924 she was national vice chairlady of Republican women in the Coolidge primaries in Ohio. She has been a member of the Republican executive committee of Ohio since 1922, and in 1924 served as alternate delegate at the Cleveland convention. As a tribute to her work, she was Ohio's representative on the committee that notified President Coolidge of his nomination.

In line with her organization work her acts since she was named committeewoman in 1926 have reached their achievement in the formation of the Ohio Council of Republican Women. It is a party organization dedicated to good government and through it Mrs. LeVan hopes ultimately to achieve the best sort of government in Ohio. One of the dreams she had while still a county worker was the establishment of schools of instruction for women voters to enable them to make the most of their franchise, and this dream is to come true in the workings of the women's council of the party.

Known for Charm and Capabilities.
She has served since its inception as president of the council. When the national committee gathered at Washington this winter to plan the Kansas City convention, she was named to the committee on arrangements. She has worked indefatigably at her task, traveling between Kansas City, Washington, New York and her home most continuously.

The same energy which she has shown in her party work heretofore as in every other line of endeavor in which she has engaged and succeeded, she has shown in the task at hand. The Eighteenth district knows Mrs. LeVan for her charm and for her capabilities.

Yale's Junior Prom First Financial Success in Years

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—Staging the Junior Prom at Yale, this year cost just $7,206.14. The committee known as the '1929 Prom Board', made a profit of only $114.15 but it has gone down as the first since 1923 to run a Prom at a profit. Last year the deficit reached $1,228.58 and there was talk of giving up the historic Yale event.

Among the items of expense this year was police and fire service costing a total of $124. The students paid $35 to have a University eight-oared shell hung up for decoration, and they paid $25 for a wooden spoon. The committee running the Prom had a private banquet costing $172, and they spent $96 having their pictures taken.

City Industrial League Clubs To Start Campaign On May 5

Turk Nash, Wellsville, K. T. K., Draw Openers

Newell, Chester and Madison Billiards Open at Home Following Week; Loop Managers to Meet Next Friday.

Opening game assignments for the City Industrial League's 1928 campaign were announced today by league officials.

The industrial loop lid will be tilted on Saturday afternoon, May 5, with all of the six clubs in action. The Chester 1927 champions will go into action against Turk Nash at Patterson Field; the Homer Laughlin club, 1927 runners-up, will be entertained by the K. T. K. nine at Columbian park and the Madison Billiards, now holding the franchise vacated by the Victory Motors, will collaborate with the Wellsville Nash Motors in opening day ceremonies at Nicholson Field.

Haskell Stars Seek Places on Olympic Team

Grant Looms as Rival for Famous Elkins.

PHILADELPHIA, April 20.—Fait Elkins, Nebraska Indian, has a blood brother rival for the honor of representing the United States in the Olympic decathlon championships this summer, in the person of James Grant, of the Haskell Indian School.

One of the first meetings of this pair will be in the decathlon tryouts of the 34th annual University of Pennsylvania Relay Carnival, which will be held on Franklin Field here April 27 and 28.

Elkins is regarded as the successor of Jim Thorpe among the Indians in all-around competition. His victory in the national championships last summer stamps him a worthy opponent for any all around the world. Grant, not as well known as his Nebraskan rival, has displayed sufficient ability to warrant his receiving serious consideration in the Olympic tryouts for the events which will be a feature of the annual Pennsylvania relay carnival.

Grant is not the only entrant from Haskell. Teams have been entered in the two-mile sprint relay and in the distance medley relay. Both of these events draw the best college teams in the country. Cyrus Walking, Robert John, Herman Gallegos and Simon Manual are the four Indians who will compete against their white brothers.

Not since the halcyon days of Carlisle have the Indians cut such a figure in athletics as have the students

Dates for the opening games were awarded to the three clubs that were traveling on opening day last year. Turk Nash, in 1927, opened at Newell; Wellsville at Chester; and K. T. K. at American Billiards, later known as Victory Motors and now the Madison Billiards.

But the schedule has been so arranged that the first games of the three traveling teams for the week of May 7 will be home games for them.

Newell, opening at K. T. K., will return to their home lot on Monday night to take on Turk Nash in the Newell home opener. Madison Billiards, going to Wellsville Saturday, will bring the down river aggregation back to the East End diamond for their home opener on Monday. And Frank Riley's Chester squad will launch their Smith Field campaign on Wednesday against Newell.

A 120-game schedule has been drafted for the local circuit, each club playing 40 games during the campaign, 10 games abroad and 10 games at home in each half.

As customary the first half winners will clash with the second half victors for the season's championship.

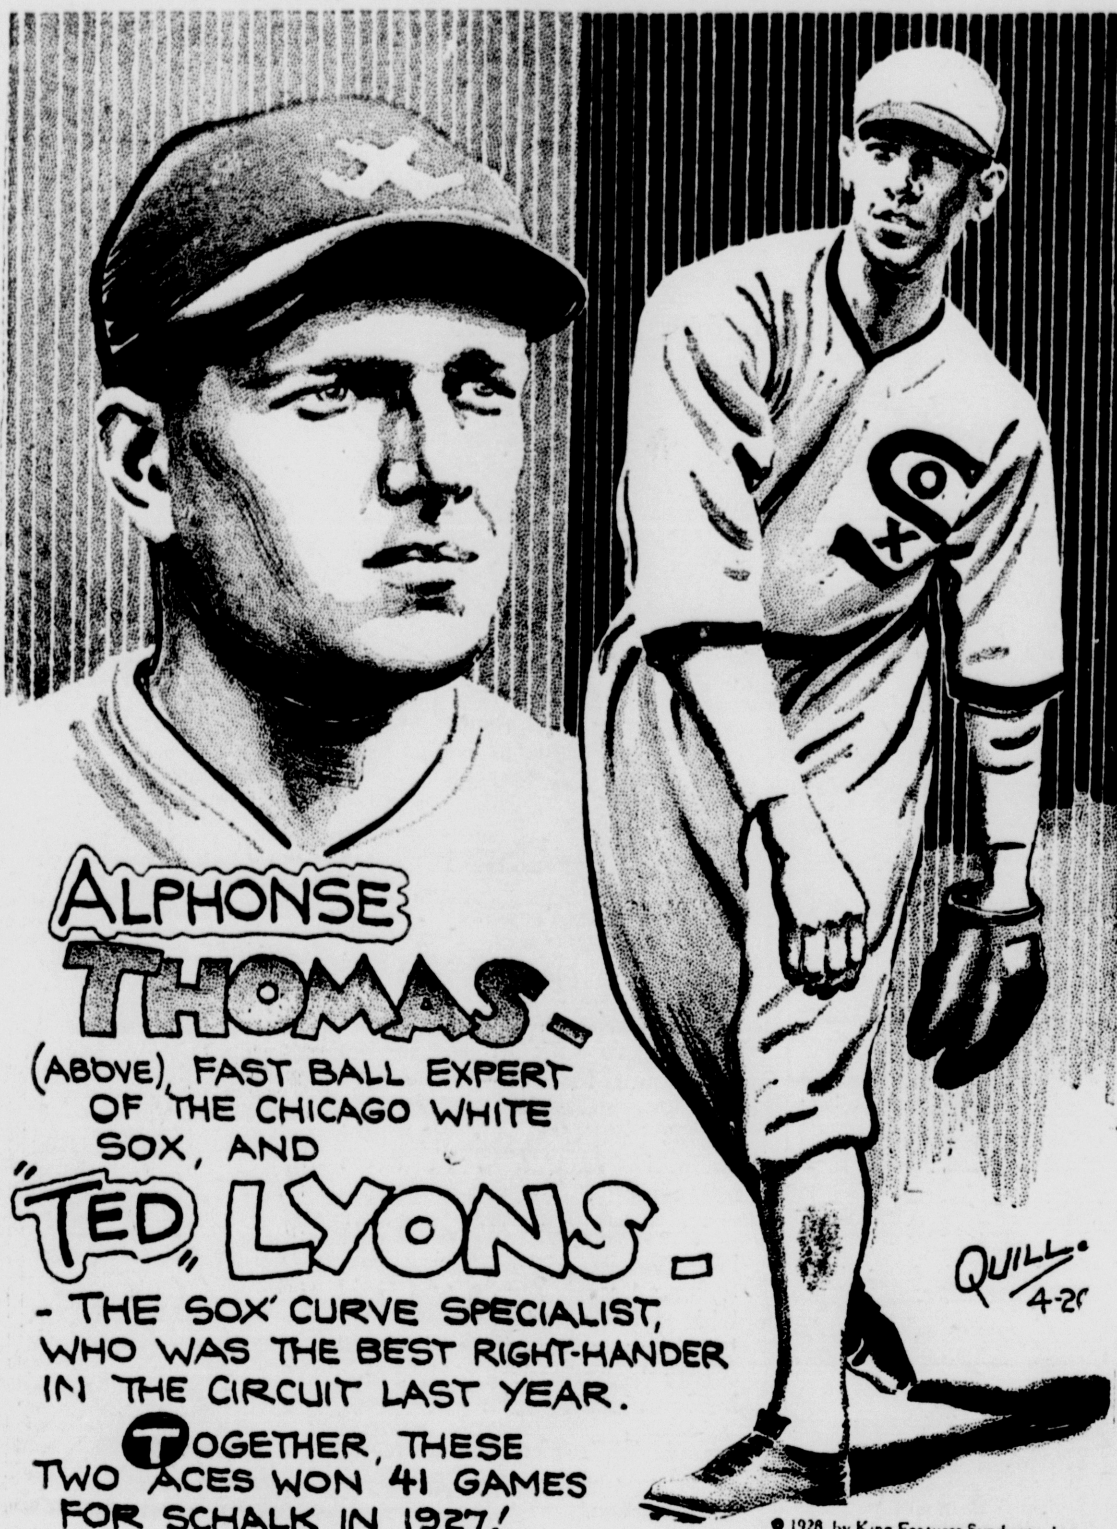

The league's financial campaign will be conducted next week and on Friday, April 27, final arrangements for the opening day ceremonies will be completed.

At this meeting, which probably will be the final sessions of the league before the teams go into action, league managers also will submit their eligibility lists.

of Haskell School, located at Lawrence, Kan. Their football, basketball and track teams have been conspicuous in recent years by their many successes.

From New Orleans another entry for the decathlon championship has arrived. Otto B. Schoenfeld, a student at Cornell University, will represent the New Orleans Young Men's Gymnastic club in the all-around championships.

ROBERT L. WINTRINGER, of Steubenville, has been playing exceptionally good golf in the south this year.

Wintringer is scheduled to tee off today with C. Ross Somerville of London, Ont., former Canadian amateur champion, in the final match of the Mid-April tournament at Pinchurst.

Wintringer reached the final in the Pinchurst tourney by defeating Norfleet Ray, of Pinehurst, by 3 and 2.

The Canadian made the grade by eliminating a fellow countryman, G. B. Heintzman of Toronto, 5 and 3.

VICTORY ALDRIDGE, pitcher, obtained by the New York Giants in a pre-season trade which sent Burleigh Grimes, the Milwaukee citizen, to the Pittsburgh Pirates, was scheduled to confer with officials of the New York Giants today with a view to settling difficulties which have kept the hurler from reporting thus far. The holdout pitcher asked for the interview.

FROM one organized league in 1927 when the game was started here, the recreation or softball type of diamond pastime this year will spread to take in three or more circuits in the district, in all probability.

The Review circuit, initial loop of its kind here, will be reorganized at a meeting of managers tonight.

And in Wellsville tonight merchants, business men and others will complete preliminary plans for the formation of an eight or 10-club league there.

To these two may be added a third, with teams recruited from the various departments of the Homer Laughlin pottery shops. And in addition there will likely be the customary independent, a number of which blossomed out during the closing stages of last season.

THE probability that Judge K. M. Landis, czar of baseball, will order the management of the Philadelphia Athletics to pay Kenton, O. officials for an unplayed game last fall, seems almost a certainty.

Kenton diamond officials recently held a conference with Landis for the purpose of collecting expenses that were incurred in promoting the event. The Athletics sent a telegram an hour before game time, announcing their inability to appear, and disappointing 3,000 fans.

Soft Ball Session Tonight

Review League Clubs to Re-organize for Season.

Review recreation league for the season of 1928 will be reorganized at a meeting to be held tonight at 7 o'clock in the Review office.

Managers of last year's clubs will attend the conference which will get under way promptly at the appointed hour. If managers are unable to attend at that hour, they are asked to send representatives.

John M'Graw in Uniform Hint Of 1928 Fight

Looks Like Giants are in for Hot Scrap.

NEW YORK.—Much has been made of the fact, in a local way, that John M'Graw, of the Eighth Avenue McGraws, has seen fit to reclothe the person in the livery of the diamond and thus, for the first time in seven years, is a baseball manager in appearance as well as in name and actuality. Much should be made of it.

To the observers in general, this meant that M'Graw's most serious pennant attempt of recent years was taking this mute but eloquent form of expression. He either has abandoned the social leanings I had imputed to him or has decided that a National league pennant might be well earned at the expense of his dignity.

Radical Change.
I am imparting no exclusive information in stating that M'Graw has undergone radical changes in personality during the last ten years. Even before he shed the garments of his trade for the more seemly clothing of the business man at his desk, John ceased to be the swashbuckler. The transition came almost without warning. One day, he was in there elbowing umpires, and calling down the anathema, of which he was master, upon their despondent heads; the next he was quietly and effectively ignoring their existence.

For a time, the abrupt change of attitude was regarded as a whim—Vasuvius smoldering sedately before the outbreak. But, as months and then years passed without the slightest sign of petulance upon Mr. M'Graw's part, the matter lost its significance and the alteration in temperament finally was accepted as being permanent, particularly since John insisted upon equal placidity upon the part of his athletes.

It was about this time that John pulled his uniform shirt over his graying head and forgot to put it on again. I always connected this circumstance with the fact that, simultaneously, he had moved into a palatial home in Pelham Manor, a chic suburb infested by solid, substantial neighbors of the so-called banker type. It is assumed that some of these wandered into the Polo Grounds for an occasional afternoon's diversion.

Social Aspects.
I may be wrong but it is my guess that John had this thought in mind when he left the old uniform in the locker and forsook the coaching lines for the more dignified atmosphere of the dugout. I think he felt he wouldn't be cutting an impressive figure before his neighbors while attired in half-column pants and a funny, little peaked cap.

This is just a guess, of course. He may have had more substantial reasons for retiring from the coaching line but, as to that I cannot say. All I know is that undoubtedly his reasons for returning are substantial ones. Even the loser's share of the next world's series wouldn't look badly on the books of the National Exhibition company.

Sluggers Off To Early Start In Both Major League Chases

178 Hits Pounded Out By 13 Clubs Yesterday

15 Homers Rattle off Swatsmiths' Bats; Babe Ruth Gets First; Traynor Gets Five Bingles in Six Tries.

By Les Conklin.

NEW YORK, April 20.—That the batters of both major leagues are far ahead of the pitchers is indicated by a perusal of the box scores of yesterday's games, in which thirteen teams pounded out 178 hits, including 64 extra base blows, for a combined batting average of .335. This does not include the record of the Cincinnati Reds, who were held to two hits by Sheriff Blake of the Cubs.

"Pie" Traynor of the Pirates led the sluggers with five hits. Those who collected four bingles were Hack Wilson, Joe Kelly and Pitcher Blake of the Cubs and Les Bell of the Braves. Wilson slammed out two homers and Kelly one.

Fifteen home runs in all rattled off the bats of the big league sluggers. Babe Ruth collected his first four-base blow of the season. Ken Williams of the Red Sox, Ruth's chief home run rival in other years, also got one and is now leading the American leaguers with three homers. Grant-ham hit Pittsburgh's first home run of the season.

Capturing their seventh victory in eight starts, the Cleveland Indians jumped to first place in the junior circuit by trouncing Chicago, 9 to 2. While the New York Yankees were splitting a double bill with Boston, the Indians have won four straight from the Sox.

Although outbatted, 16 to 7, the Red Sox made it a real Patriots' day by nosing out the Yankees, 7 to 6. Herb Pennock turned the Sox back in the second game, 7 to 2.

Detroit, now hitting on all nine cylinders after a bad start, outwalked the St. Louis Browns, 9 to 8, in a wild game in which no less than 18 passes were issued. Paul Easterling, under study for Outfielder Fothergill, clouted his second homer in as many days.

The National league race tightened up when the New York Giants were nosed out by the Boston Braves, 9 to 8. Rogers Hornsby, banished Giant, knocked in the winning run in the tenth.

Twenty-one Pirates made 14 hits but seven of their pitchers, including John Miljus, world series hero, were treated most brutally by the St. Louis Cardinals, who won the 13 to 10 slugfest. The Cards jumped to second place.

Making 21 hits to Cincinnati's two, Sheriff Blake and his Cubs trounced the Reds, 13 to 0.

Some Wind!

NEW YORK, April 20.—The gale which swept New York and vicinity yesterday wrought havoc in the sports world.

The Toronto-Newark ball game was called off when the wind blew outfield flies back to the home plate.

A seven-run rally in the sixth which routed Jumbo Elliott gave the Phils a 9 to 5 decision over Brooklyn.

Yankees Open Home Season Against Macks

Fans Turn Out to See Babe and Lou Perform.

NEW YORK, April 20.—Out of first place for the first time this season, the world's champion New York Yankees opened their home season here today against the Philadelphia Athletics.

Anticipating further developments in the Ruth-Gehrig home run race, the fans turned out in droves to witness their favorite Babe get his first homer yesterday and now is only one behind Buster.

Mayor James J. Walker will throw out the first ball.

TRAINING SEASON AUGURS PENNANT

If you ask Joe McCarthy (left) manager, and Charlie Grim, captain, of the Chicago "Cubs," what chance of success they have for the 1928 flag, they will tell you their snappy period warming up in the South means a runaway with the pennant.

Rickard Forces Start Work on Building up $1,500,000 Gate for Tunney-Heeney Battle

And all They've Got for the "Gate" so Far is a Handle and a Pair of Hinges.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, April 20.—Before the end of the week, the "work," as we say at the sewing circle, will begin to go in on the current undertaking of attempting to build up a $1,500,000 gate around a handle and a pair of hinges. Mr. Rickard is already on the ground, furnishing statements while you wait or even if you don't, and Mr. Dempsey is also about, furnishing atmosphere, most of it, I suspect.

Mr. Rickard, of course, is the handle referred to, since that is exactly what he is intended to do. It is assumed naturally that there will be something that needs handling from time to time, including both; also that its color won't be sky blue. Mr. Rickard is a smart hombre, who somehow gets to know things like that in advance, but he hasn't quite perfected some of his best ideas. For instance, he doesn't know how to make a gate swing on a handle.

So Brother Tunney is advancing upon the scene with bronzed brow and a heart that is all for uplift. He is due to arrive at the Pennsylvania station on Sunday morning and will make the headlines in a few, simple words, not exceeding five syllables. Brother Tunney will be available for the ensuing four or five days and, by that time, it is expected that every body and his aunt Maggie will be aware of the fact that a fight for the world's heavyweight championship is to be conducted at the Yankee stadium in late July. The young man will then be able to proceed to Speculator, N. Y., to resume light training, it being necessary to discharge the duties mentioned in the order of their importance.

The other huge seems to be like one of those 1921 matters; that is to say, it is missing on all seven, which are all the days we have this week. Mr. Thomas Heeney is a foreigner and, therefore, is unfamiliar with the habits and customs of this strange country. He probably thinks a bally-hoo is something you slip in the husband's coffee on the morning of your fifteenth anniversary. His American master, Mr. Charles Harvey, has twice cabled him to come here immediately or much sooner. This, when translated into English, may have been taken to mean that he was to stay away in droves. There now, I've gone and insulted the poor fellow.

for safer, more delightful travel

The illustrations of the Nash Advanced Six and Special Six Sedans, shown above, point out two very great advantages which belong to everyone who drives the Nash.

For climbing hills, going around other cars, getting away in front at a traffic start, Nash has extra power and greater flexibility, produced by the highly perfected, precision balanced, Nash 7-bearing motor, and the equally famous Nash straight line drive.

Coming down hills, driving in traffic, meeting a sudden emergency—Nash 2-way 4-wheel brakes surround Nash owners with exceptional safety. And they also require the minimum of attention and adjustment, because of their 2-way and fully equalized design.

The extra power and extra safety of Nash travel cost you nothing, as you will discover if you compare Nash prices to the prices asked for other cars. Nash leads the world in motor car value!

Donor Also Promises Residence as Nurses' Home.

Committee of Wellsville men, interested in bringing about the construction of the proposed Byron D. Beacom Memorial hospital, yesterday inspected Steubenville hospitals and next week expect to make a short trip into northern Ohio for the same purpose.

In the delegation that visited several Steubenville institutions yesterday were Byron Beacom, Dr. J. S. McCulloch and Mayor Wallace L. Fogo.

Another committee, comprising probably J. F. Calhoun, W. A. O'Grady, John Diemer, Dr. McCulloch and Dr. J. M. King, in addition to Beacom, is planning a short trip to Bedford, near Cleveland, and other towns in the vicinity of Bedford to discuss methods of building, architecture, equipment and other accessory details.

Beacom several months ago proposed to give the city $50,000 for the construction of a hospital with the proviso that the city provide a site and aid in its maintenance.

However, nothing definite has been done until the present time, aside from informal conferences and dinners at which tentative plans for converting the cash bequest into the actual hospital were considered.

In addition to providing the $50,000 for the hospital, Beacom expects to give his residence at the corner of Broadway and Eighth street for a nurses' home in the event that the project materializes.

Bethia Southwick Chapter Meets at Kretser Home.

Second anniversary of the formation of Bethia Southwick chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was observed at a meeting last evening in the home of Mrs. Edwin Kretser, Riverside avenue.

During the business session, members of the chapter drafted letters to be sent Ohio senators urging them to vote against legislation which would modify present immigration laws.

Eight applications for membership were also acted on by the chapter.

The president-general's message for April was read by Mrs. J. C. Chetwynd and the devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. William Wilson, chaplain.

Mrs. Robert Burlingame was in charge of the month's flag lesson.

A paper, "April in American History" was given by Mrs. Bruce Kirby while Miss Hiram Wolgamott pleased with two readings, "When the Flag Goes By," and "The Old Trundle Bed."

Mrs. Henry Green presented a paper on "Indian Names of Ohio Counties," in which the interpretations were interestingly discussed.

Paul Revere's contributions to the Revolutionists' success were recounted by Mrs. J. C. Simpson and a short sketch of the result of the 1776 struggle was given by Mrs. Robert Burlingame.

Three guests attended the meeting. Mrs. Earl Krug of East Liverpool, Mrs. W. R. MacDonald and Miss Margaret Browning.

P. R. R. OFFICIAL CLUB SPEAKER

C. P. Willis Talks at Salineville Meet.

C. P. Willis of Wellsville, supervisor of maintenance of way for the Pennsylvania railroad company, addressed the Salineville Kiwanis club members at their noon luncheon yesterday. His subject was "Some Improvements in Railroad Engineering."

Attendance prize, awarded by John Overbaugh, was won by W. W. Eason. On Wednesday and Thursday of next week the club will sponsor the showing of the film, "The Life of Riley."

Proceeds from the picture will be used in child welfare work.

On Tuesday evening, April 24, the club will entertain the East Liverpool and Leetonia Kiwanis clubs in the United Presbyterian church.

Here's Speedy Relief for Tender, Aching, Swollen Feet

Moone's Emerald Oil Must Give Complete Satisfaction Or Money Cheerfully Refunded.

Your feet may be so swollen and inflamed that you think you can't go another step. Your shoes may feel as if they are cutting right into the flesh. You feel sick all over with the pain and torture, you'd give anything to get relief.

Two or three applications of Moone's Emerald Oil and in fifteen minutes the pain and soreness disappears. A few more applications at regular intervals and the swelling reduces. And as for Soft Corns and Calluses a few applications each night at bed time and they just seem to shrivel right up and scale off.

No matter how discouraged you have been with powders, toothpastes or other applications, if you have not tried Emerald Oil then you have something to learn.

It's a wonderful formula—this combination of essential oils with camphor and other antiseptics so marvelous that thousands of bottles are sold annually for reducing varicose or swollen veins. Every good druggist guarantees Moone's Emerald Oil to end your foot troubles or money back.

England Planning To Study American Postal Methods

LONDON.—In the hopes of improving her own service, England is going to America to study postoffice methods.

The administration of the British post office system has been severely criticized on economical and other grounds, and the question has been discussed in the House of Commons.

During the course of a debate there, the Postmaster General announced that he was planning a "flying visit" by officers of the British Post Office to America to make a close study of the American telephone and telegraph service.

Seek Museum to Keep Valued Relics Of Yankee Ingenuity

BOSTON.—Museums and organizations outside of New England have acquired early examples of New England industrial ingenuity.

The Massachusetts Bay Tercentenary committee suggests that original manufacturing devices and other priceless relics of New England's pioneering inventiveness be preserved and kept within New England.

MORE THAN 6,000 DOG TAGS ISSUED

LISBON, April 20.—More than 6,000 dog licenses have been issued in this county since the first of the year, which is a new high record for the first quarter. The number is within a few hundred of the total issued during 1927.

Several owners have been arrested for failure to procure licenses for their dogs. A penalty of $1 is now being paid by persons applying for licenses. The present fee is $2 for a male dog and $4 for a female.

RULINGS MADE IN EIGHT CASES

LISBON, April 20.—In the appeal case of John J. Hendricks against the Ellsworth Chevrolet company, the court has granted the plaintiff leave to file a petition.

A decree of foreclosure and order of sale have been entered in the case of the Union Savings & Loan company against Grace Podmore and others on a judgment entered against the defendants for $945.35.

A verdict for $28.19 and interest has been returned by a jury in the case of Mrs. Mary Osborn against C. H. Walker, which was tried before Judge Lones. The case was carried to common pleas court on appeal.

Leave to the defendants to answer by May 5 has been granted in the case of the Seger Fuel company against Charles Bohatay and others. In the action of Fred Gibbons against J. D. Ferguson, the court has granted leave to the defendants to file an amended answer and cross petition.

John McCalla and others, defendants in an action filed by Walter Sheets, have been given leave to file their answer on or before May 15.

The case of the E. A. Strout Farm Agency against Charles Lederle and others has been dismissed.

C. F. Smith, B. M. Modestette and L. P. Metzgar have been named defendant in the suit of Emily D. Howell against Martin V. Howell and others. The defendants have been granted leave to file a supplemental petition.

Martha Coleman Granted Divorce.
LISBON, April 20.—On the grounds of gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty, the court has granted a decree of divorce to Martha Coleman against her husband, Lorain Coleman. The plaintiff has been awarded alimony and the custody of minor children.

Undergoes Operation.
LISBON, April 20.—George C. Nisewonger, of Lisbon, formerly of Summitville, underwent an operation Tuesday in the Cleveland Clinic.

CROWE DEFENDS CHICAGO; HITS FALSE STORIES

Illinois Metropolis is Not Naughty, Prosecutor Says.

QUOTES FIGURES
Blames Press for Blackening City's Reputation.

CHICAGO, Ill.—Chicago is not a naughty city! Aroused by what he terms a nationwide conspiracy of the press to blacken the city's reputation, State's Attorney Robert Crowe has launched a stinging defense of Chicago's civic virtue. Here are some of Mr. Crowe's figures on crime:

There are more murders per capita committed in Washington, D. C. than there are in Chicago.

Milwaukee has more crime per capita than Chicago.

Thirteen large cities in the United States have a larger ratio of violent crime and murder than has Chicago.

This much maligned city, according to Crowe, convicts 66 out of every 100 criminals arrested by the police department and brought to trial.

Vice, murder, ordinary shootings in gangland and bootlegging are decreasing here rapidly, according to Mr. Crowe, who cites from the records of his department.

Bad reputation. The chief trouble with all this "naughty Chicago" propaganda, Mr. Crowe finds, is that it scares away all the desirable citizens and invites all the persons who want to launch a bright career in crime.

"Why, ev rybody in Podunk Corners, or Walla Walla, Wash., reads these stories in the papers," declared Crowe.

"What impression do they get?"

"They are afraid of Chicago. They get visions of automobiles flying around the streets loaded with gangsters and the gangsters armed to the teeth with Thompson sub-machine guns and dynamite bombs."

"They think everybody in the Loop district wears a bullet proof vest."

"Old ladies from Kansas or Vermont come here to visit and shiver with fear when they look down the safe and respectable reaches of Michigan boulevard."

"The result is that a lot of people who would be a big asset to the city are kept out. They fear for their lives, so they go to live in other cities that are, as a matter of record, much more dangerous than Chicago."

"They sit in their homes in Philadelphia or some other town where they have taken their money and their business and chuckle with self satisfaction whenever they read one of these colored accounts of a gangland shooting in Chicago."

"Ho! Ho!" they say, "See what I missed by not living in Chicago."

"But what happens when a young fellow wants to start out life with an automatic pistol as his sole capital?"

Brings in Gangsters.

"He read in Milwaukee papers that there is no crime in Milwaukee. He reads that if he commits a crime there in the morning he will eat his luncheon cakes in the penitentiary at noon."

"Chicago, he tells himself, is a much better place for gangsters, gunmen and bootleggers, so he comes here and another criminal is enlisted in the gangland ranks."

"Stories about our bad gangs are making a Mecca for gangsters of the city."

"Even New York and the eastern seaboard cities are losing their better known criminals to Chicago. Entering lads from Seattle and Los Angeles are coming here to inaugurate their criminal careers.

"—all because of a fictitious idea that Chicago is a bad place that deals lightly with criminals."

State's Attorney Crowe would begin an immediate campaign to redeem Chicago's vicious reputation.

His first move, he says, would be to convince the home-town papers that gangland shootings are private feuds, in the first place, and second, that there aren't so many of them, per capita, after all.

Prominent Chicagoans, aroused by the bad name the city has gained, have announced their intention of supporting such a campaign of reputation-clearing.

Said to emit health-giving ultra-violet rays, a new glass is being moulded into hats for women in Europe.

FOKKER BOOSTS AIRPORT AS AID TO TOWN BOOMS

No Landing Field as Much Handicap as no Railroad.

NEED IS URGENT

Designer Refers to no
Dim and Misty Future.

PITTSBURGH.—The time is not far off when a city without an excellent airport will be as badly handicapped as a present-day town with no railroad connections.

That was the prediction made by Anthony H. G. Fokker, internationally known designer of aircraft, air pilot and prophet of progress, while visiting this city to testify in a case involving aircraft patents.

"Air transportation is developing so rapidly that many cities will be entirely out of the picture as far as having a part in national aviation lines if immediate steps are not taken to start something in the right direction," he asserted.

It is no dim and misty future, Fokker referred to, it is a condition which he foresees for the immediate future. Already aviation would be in much more general use if suitable landing places were provided, he believes.

Cities Must Get Bury.

"In another two years the major aviation lines from north to south and east to west will be established so fast has aviation moved forward," he said.

"The city that does not busy itself and provide terminal and landing facilities will find itself left off these main routes and will have committed a blunder which will prove an increasing handicap as the years go by."

Mail and passengers will make up by far the greatest bulk of the cargo, but here again, he asserted, the first steps must be taken by the cities.
Government and private aviation enterprises are continually being extended but must have adequate terminal facilities. These must be provided by the cities before they can expect to find themselves placed on proposed routes.

Picking the Port.

"The selection of an airport does not hinge so greatly on the distance the port is from the destination point but on the length of time necessary to reach the port," Fokker explains.

"If there is a fast mail or speed-boat service that will permit the field to be reached in 10 to 15 minutes, that is all that is required."

Cities with the foresight to provide landing fields, aviation terminals which appear ridiculous in the light of present air requirements, need never fear that there will be a surplus of such facilities, he said.

The time is coming when all that are available will be used and when air field space will be at a greater premium than auto parking space in the metropolitan districts of cities today.

MARY BRIAN WINS IN "TONGO RIM"

The ever-enthralling story of gold, of outlaws, of vigilantes has been made even more entertaining and thrilling through the excellent Paramount picture that came to the Ceramic theatre yesterday.

"Under the Tongo Rim," is the name of the production, and it is another of those virile Zane Grey yarns that never fail to thrill and amaze.

The story, briefly, centers about the romance of Lucy Watson and Ed Denmeade, the latter a young prospector whose father is slain by a notorious gambler, a man who shuffles cards with one hand. Lucy's brother, Bud, gets in a brawl with the gambler and Dad Denmeade. Dad has won much money in a card game, and the gambler accuses him of cheating. During the row that follows, Dad is killed. Dying, he tells Ed to find the man who shuffles cards trickily, and he will have his killer.

Sam Sprall, the gambler, is revealed as the murderer, and after a hard-fought battle, is sent out of town with his band of thieves and killed.

Through it all, the romance between Lucy and Ed grows.

Mary Brian, who has been seen as Richard Dix's leading woman in such productions as "Man Power" and "Shanghai Bound," plays the girl, and Richard Arlen, who has won fame in "Wings" and "Figures Don't Lie," plays the daring Ed. Harry T. Morey, Jack Loden, Billy Franey, Harry Todd, Bruce Gordon and others are in the supporting cast.

From the standpoint of thrills, heart interest and comedy, "Under the Tongo Rim" is an extraordinary production. The photography, the work of C. Edgar Schoenbaum, is also particularly attractive.

"Under the Tongo Rim" is, under the skin, a Western story. Speaking more correctly, it may be termed a typical adventure yarn that bristles with amazing events, one following the other in machine-gun-like order. For those who like their Westerns chuck full of action, they will not be disappointed with this latest work of Paramount and Zane Grey. The picture is one of a highly entertaining character, and it should be seen.

Stolen Idols

A Romance of the Sea
By Frank L. Packard.

His brows furrowed. He hadn't looked for this. This put an entirely different perspective on what he had proposed to do here tonight at Java Dick's. Or did it? Wasn't it, above all else, a guarantee of success? Unbounded luck, as a matter of fact? How could he better insure Verna's safety? If Won Fu saw the idol, that began and ended the matter so far as Verna was concerned. There wouldn't be anything problematical about the tale of it reaching the right source. The source, or an integral part of it, was here—now. From that angle, then, he could not afford to let Won Fu's presence in any way change his plans. The only difference was that Java Dick wasn't needed any more in order to relay unwittingly the significance of the idol to this scum around the table. There wasn't any bait needed any more, either, to lure the Singapore end of the gang out into the open. Chen-shu was back—that was enough! Verna first, then—and afterwards Chen-shu! And Java Dick, while no longer a factor for the moment, might be able to help in that latter respect; Java Dick might know, or, if he chose, find out a lot about Chen-shu's lairs, and who those others were who once had formed the crew of Hsi Yan's junk. But that was for afterwards!

Bob Kingsley's drunken stupor appeared to be passing off. He raised his head, and, with blinking eyes stared up the table. Won Fu was only five or six places away; and Bob Kingsley, though he did not look at the Chinese man, was conscious that the other had drawn back a little, and from behind the shoulder of a Negro in the front rank was staring in his direction. But Bob Kingsley gave no sign that he was aware of Won Fu's presence—except now in his partially revivified state to be giving his entire, if befuddled, attention to the game. Suddenly he staggered to his feet, and leaned over the table.

"Going to make a real bet!" he announced portentously—and tugged at his hand, which seemed to have stuck fast in his trousers' pocket. "Bleed the blooming bank white! Show you how! Roll your marble and let her ride! I'm Black Bob Kingsley, and—"

CHAPTER 40.

His hand came away with an extra tug and a violent jerk from his pocket—and, with the jerk, a fistful of money and the little white ivory god flew helter-skelter over the table. With a yell of dismay, Bob Kingsley flung himself in a sprawl upon the table after the idol—and, as he sprawled, he saw Won Fu lean suddenly forward, and in Won Fu's face he saw for the first time an Oriental startled out of his habitual phlegm. Bob Kingsley grasped the idol! but let it slip from his fingers, and permitted it to drop on the floor. And then, pushing everybody in his way madly aside, he was down on the floor after it. The idol rolled under the table, on hands and knees, crawling frantically, he followed it, and snatched it up.

He came out from beneath the table in undignified and none too agile a fashion, and, as he rose to his feet and stood there for a moment awing unsteadily, the natives around the table laughed, and some of them flung a gibe at him. In a vacuous and silly way he smiled back at them—but, as he stood there blinking foolishly, out of the corner of his eye he caught sight of Won Fu currying from the room.

The play was over! In ten minutes, or half an hour—he had no means of knowing which—Won Fu would be back here with Chen-shu and enough of his felonious crowd to overrun Java Dick's if necessary. Black Bob Kingsley, drunk, and in a dive where there was no chance of police interference—and with the idol in his possession! Were there even ten minutes? It was time to get out! The odds were a bit too heavy to stage the next move here tonight!

Apparently too crestfallen to give any heed to the money he had scattered with so much bluster on the table, Bob Kingsley staggered across the room, and out through the door into Tao Lin's presence.

"Where you going?" demanded Tao Lin. "Java Dick h. n't come yet, but he'll be here soon."

"Don't—hie!—give a damn!" said Bob Kingsley sheepishly. "Had enough!"

Tao Lin made some reply, but Bob Kingsley did not catch it—he was already stepping out into the black alleyway. The next instant the door closed behind him, and as a whining voice bade him goodnight, he lurched away.

From the mouth of the alleyway he emerged into a fairly well-lighted, and by no means deserted street—and here he halted abruptly. Under the street lamp, not more than two or three yards away, he saw the squat, almost dwarf-like figure of Java Dick coming toward him.

Another little bit of luck! He had intended for his own purposes to make a confidant of Java Dick, and, while, as things had turned out, that was no longer a necessity in one sense, Java Dick was, as he had already decided, a prospective ally that was not to be despised. If he had dared risk it, he would have waited back there for Java Dick's return. There was a lot of information that no one was better able to supply than this unsaintly Lord of the Native Underworld—if he would!

"Hie!—hell, Java!" he said.

Java Dick thrust out his hand.

"Blimy!" ejaculated the misshapen Oriental, with his incongruous Cockney accent. "Blimy, if it ain't Black Bob!" He grinned broadly. "You're going the wrong way, ain't you?"

Bob Kingsley shook his head.

"I've been to your place"—he pushed his hand unsteadily across his eyes—"and I've drunk a bit too much at 'eady."

"That's all right," declared Java Dick heartily. "You come on back, and I'll fix you up for the night where you can sleep off your peevishness."

Again Bob Kingsley shook his head.

"No," he said; "and I fancy you wouldn't want me—not tonight. I—hie!—I'll tell you why in a minute." He caught hold of Java Dick's arm confidentially. "I say! You know about Hsi Yan's junk at Kawa, and my uncle, Tom Kingsley, being murdered, and two little ivory gods being found in his pocket, don't you?"

"Of course, I know," said Java Dick. "It was in the papers."

"Well"—Bob Kingsley's grip tightened on the other's arm—"I don't know why, but those two little idols are at the bottom of the whole business. They were sent to my old man in 'atua, and stolen from him the same night he got them. But an way!"—he was whispering in Java Dick's ear now—"I've got back one of them."

"The hell, you have!" exclaimed Java Dick earnestly.

"Sure, I have! a srted Bob Kingsley. "I got it right here in my pocket now. And I want some help. You're a good old scout, Java! And you've got 'em all skinned! You're going to pay for that Kawa business. The 'ols are at the bottom of it. I tell you. Say, do you know a lousy Chink by the name of Won Fu?"

"I know him," said Java Dick. "He was in my place tonight."

"Well, then, do you know another of the same breed, a fellow with a bent nose called Chen-shu?"

"He was there, too, a couple of hours ago," Java Dick answered; "but he went away again. What about 'em?"

Bob Kingsley steeled himself on his feet with a valiant effort. They would tell Java Dick that he had been erroneously drunk a few minutes ago in the other's place. Therefore he must remain drunk now.

"They're two of the crowd that'd n't n'le down at Kawa," he said hoarsely. "And the reason I know is because Chen-shu's got the other idol. What I want to find out is where they hang out, and who—hie!—all the rest of 'em are that are mixed up in it with 'em. See? That's where I'm banking on you, Java. You're the one man can help me out. Say! You'll lend a hand, won't you?"

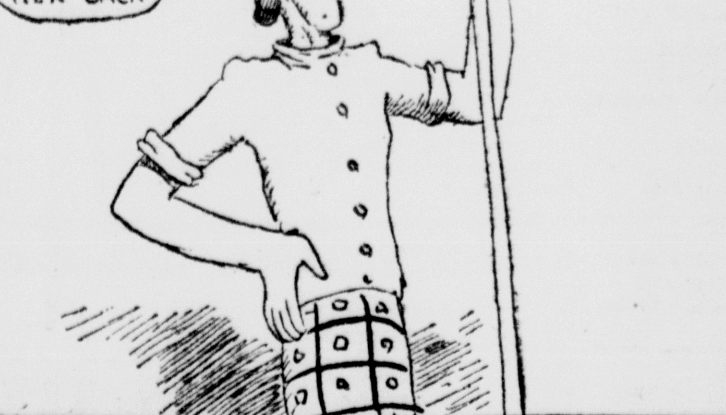

Java Dick scratched thoughtfully at his head.

"I don't know about this," he said doubtfully. "I can't afford to get caught doing any snitching. Ill tell you what I'll do, though. I've know Chen-shu off and on for four or five years, but I don't know anything about his pals in Singapore, or where any of 'em hang out; but you come along back with me and I'll send out some runners that'll maybe pick up some of the dope you want—and providing you agree to keep your face shut as to where it came from, I'll pass it on to you. Come along!"

Indianapolis Lads Can Play Baseball Now in Safety

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—The baseball nabber is the modern children's answer to danger that threatens them from motor traffic when they play on the streets.

When the ball rolls into the street the child stands on the curb and pulls the ball back from the street with the nabber. Every pupil in the school either has or is making one.

for playgrounds, Indianapolis kiddies have developed a means of retrieving balls that rolled into the streets without risking their lives to do so.

The baseball nabber is the solution brought forward by the pupils of public school No. 6 here. It is a long stick, usually an old fishing pole, on the end of which is attached a ring of tin with a hole larger than a baseball. When the ball rolls into the street the ball nabber is brought into use. The child stands on the curb and pulls the ball back from the street with the nabber. Every pupil in the school either has or is making one.

CHICAGO'S TWO BEACONS LIGHT WAY OF FLIERS

Lindbergh Beam to be Placed Atop Hotel.

45-FOOT TOWER

City Becoming One of Largest Aerial Terminals.

CHICAGO.—Two aerial beacons, each the largest of its kind in the world, will light the way of aviators seeking Chicago.

Atop the new Morrison hotel, 633 feet in the air, Mayor Thompson's Lindbergh Light will be constructed shortly.

The Roanoke Beacon, a granite vertical beam will be erected 520 feet above the street on the Roanoke building, according to an announcement just made by Walter Greenbaum, Chicago broker and aviation enthusiast.

The plan for the Roanoke beacon has been approved by the department of commerce at Washington, according to Greenbaum, and specifications for the Lindbergh Light will be submitted to the department and to the bureau of lighthouses shortly.

Work Begins Soon.

Work on the Roanoke beacon will begin in June, and the light will be ready for use in July, according to present plans. The beacon, to rise on a steel tower 45 feet above the Roanoke building, will throw a single shaft of red light into the sky.

The Roanoke beacon, according to its designers, will penetrate fog which often drifts in from Lake Michigan, and will be visible for at least 100 miles on a clear night. An auxiliary beacon will be pointed toward the proposed lake front field to direct the fliers after they have reached the city.

Neon tubes, arranged in twenty four units, will supply the light for the vertical Roanoke beam, which will be, literally, a forty-five foot tower of light.

There will be no conflict between the two beacons, members of the Mayor Thompson aero committee said.

"The Lindbergh Light will be a white, revolving light visible for 257 miles," one member of the committee explained. "The Greenbaum beacon will be stationary and red, giving it fog penetrating qualities."

"In fact, under these plans Chicago will have two splendid airplane beacons, each the largest of its kind in the world, and they will make Chicago one of the safest cities in the country for night landing."

For Night Flying.

Construction of suitable beacons for night flying was felt necessary here because of the fact that Chicago is becoming one of the country's largest aerial terminals.

Mail and commercial planes are landing here on night trips constantly. Because of the dangers involved in flying over Lake Michigan, it was explained, huge beacons pointing out the location of the city from a great distance have become necessary.

The two lights, when built this summer, will constitute a big step in development of the city as an airport it was understood.

As soon as plans for the Lindbergh Light are approved by the department of commerce, the city is expected to appropriate $20,000 for machinery to generate power, and construction of the light will follow immediately.

An American Car for Americans who love to get up and go!

The Cabriolet • Body by Fisher

You know the feeling. Wanderlust . . . the urge to get up and go. To see new places and new faces. To drive as far and as hard as you like.

When you feel the urge to wander . . . that's when you'll appreciate this All-American Six . . . this staunch, powerful brute of a car . . . capable of withstanding the hardest pace.

With its big, smooth, silent engine . . . providing an abundance of drive and snap. With its rugged frame . . . its 117-inch wheelbase . . . self-adjusting clutch . . . instant-action four-wheel brakes.

Here's the very car for you when you answer the call of the road. Come in and try one. Drive it an hour . . . and you'll want it for your own.

Railway to Red Sea Post is Now Being Considered

JERUSALEM.—Construction of a railway line between Maan and Akaba, the Red Sea port, is being considered by an "important company," according to the official organ of the Transjordan government.

Akaba is the ancient Israelitish port called "Ezion Gaber" in Testament times. The railway connecting this port with Transjordan may revive the ancient port, giving Transjordan an outlet to the sea.

Any line laid between Maan and Akaba would be a continuation of the Hedjaz railway carrying Moslem pilgrims to Mecca and Medina, reopened by the Palestine Railways more than six years ago.

The revival of Akaba, a port filled in the old days with commerce, has long been the wish of Zionists. Akaba has been taken by the British from the Hedjaz much against the will of Ibn Saud, the Wahabi king, and included officially in Transjordan which is becoming more and more independent of the Holy Land.

Russian Peasants Plan Monument To Young Hero

SEMIPALATINSK, Siberia.—All northern Siberia where the sun is beginning to shine three hours a day after a long dark winter, is talking about Konstantine, a peasant, who fought the season's most heroic battle with wolves and lost. Konstantine drove into a pack of ferocious Siberian wolves on a lonely road 100 miles north of here. His horse broke loose and fell in fright, leaving him on the road with his rifle. He backed up against a snow-drift and faced the beasts. He shot three in succession and the pack devoured its dead comrades before advancing on him. Konstantine evidently kept this up eight times because a searching party which found nothing but his skeleton, rifle and bits of clothing, detected the bones of at least 24 wolves in little heaps on a trail leading to his own remains from a distance of 100 feet. Peasants of the neighborhood will erect a monument to the hero of the North commemorating the rifle into the base of a stone slab and mounting a wolf's skull on top.

THE FAMOUS
THE DENMAN TIRE SALES CO. EAST LIVERPOOL, A.

PREVENTS GOITER

AND POURS FREELY IN DAMP WEATHER

WHEN IT RAINS
-IT POURS

What more can you ask of a table salt than that it protect your children from simple goiter and pour as freely in damp weather as in dry? Morton's Iodized Salt does both and does them well.

When you consider that goiter threatens 2 out of every 3 children, the importance of using an iodized salt is obvious. But be sure to choose a reliable brand, for iodized salt can do more harm than good if not properly mixed.

Made by one of America's oldest and most reliable salt makers, Morton's Iodized Salt contains just enough tasteless iodine to prevent goiter . . . but not enough to disturb the most delicate system. Get it from your grocer at once and use it on the table and in cooking.
